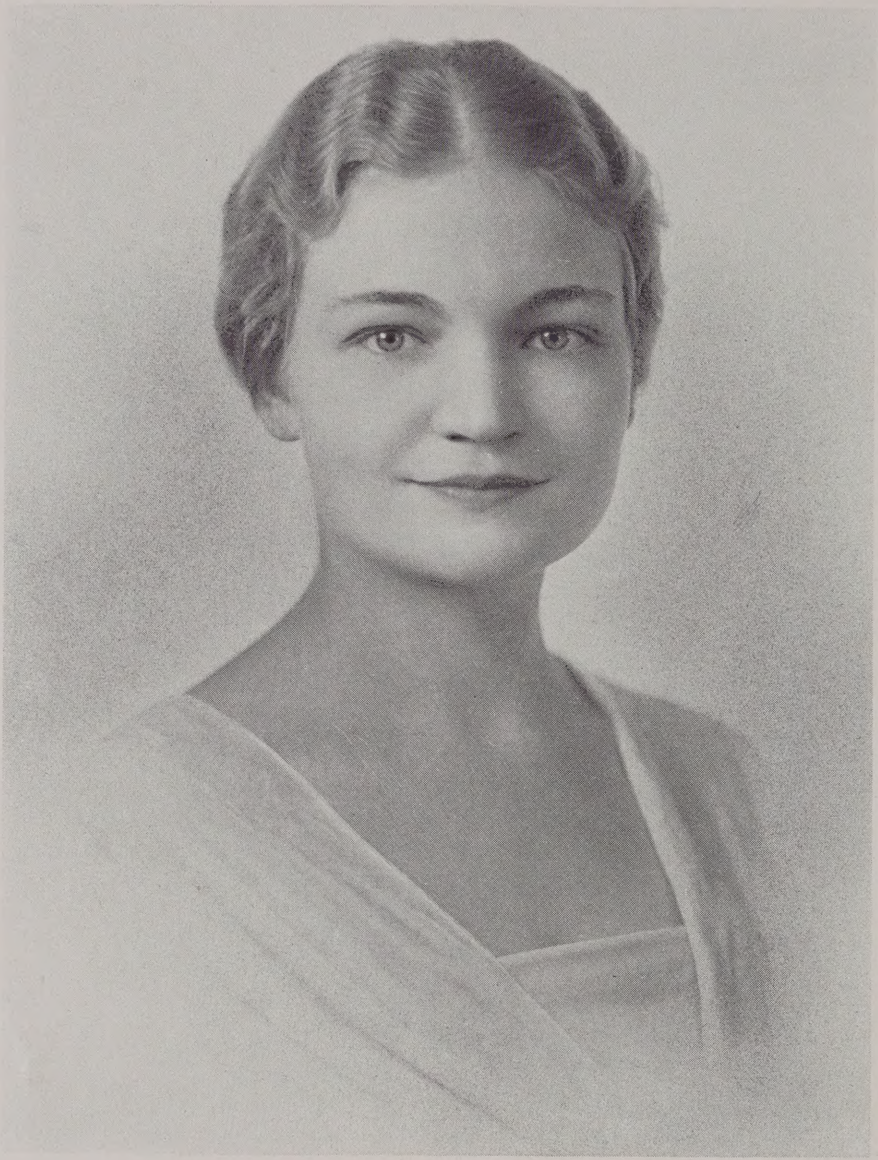
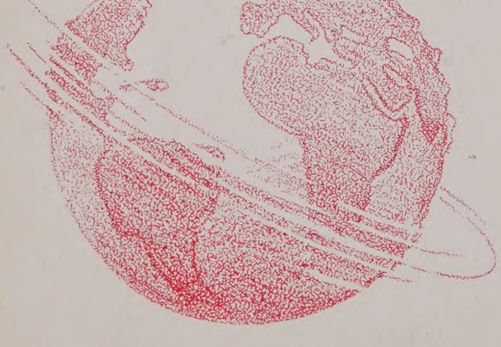
PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS
OF THOMAS JEFFERSON HIGH SCHOOL
RICHMOND, VIRGINIA

ALDERMAN LIBRARY-EXTENSION SERVICE
University Station Charlottesville, Va.





Her patience, loyalty, and charm have been a continual joy to us, and our association with her one of the happiest memories of our high school life. Appreciation is expressed differently in all languages, but none carries the affection and gratitude with which we dedicate this diary of memories to her, our sponsor and friend, Miss Lila Crenshaw.

FOREWORD

To the American high school student of a past era the Atlantic Ocean was a mighty bulwark, protecting his country, isolating it, and keeping it free from foreign entanglements. But that day with its bustles, its periwigs, and its complacent security is no more.

In our present world of science and invention, methods of transportation and communication have reached a new height; and America is no longer an impenetrable fortress but a mighty nation, subordinate to the family of nations, relying on and compelled by the marvels of aviation, radio, wireless, and television to keep in touch with her sister countries.

Today's students realize the added responsibilities occasioned by their entrance into this more compact world. They feel that it is their duty as future citizens to have a world vision and to understand international relations and problems, for a primary result of this machine age has been to make that which involves one nation involve all nations.

Therefore in an era when man depends upon his fellow man to an unparalleled extent, when nation looks to its neighboring nation for assistance, support, and even life itself, when the high school student finds himself a part of a chaotic world scene, to what emphasis can we better direct our attention than to that of cosmopolitan mindedness. To this end, we dedicate our 1939 MONTICELLO.

EXPLANATION OF DIVISION PAGES

The world — an aggregation of many nations, thousands upon thousands of people of various creeds, races, religions, and cultures! To perpetuate this everchanging, unstable world we have chosen an international theme; and consequently our division pages represent five of those countries whose functions in world affairs, whether major or minor, form an intricate part of that cycle which is life.

The Land of the Rising Sun, the land of a militant, high-strung people, the land of classes and cliques — Japan. Formerly the mention of this far-eastern country recalled, among other things, the silk worm industry, tea drinkers, great scholars, and beautiful cherry trees, and, in the midst of this intellectual atmosphere, the war lord, striving to obtain more land for the increasing Japanese population. The last characteristic has now become dominant, and public opinion has commonly dubbed Japan an oppressor nation. However, although the domestic, more peaceful side of Japanese life is for the present dormant, the intelligence, scholarship, and beauty of the country lives on in her literature to remind the world of the glory that was Japan.

Synonymous with the mention of Holland is the Hague, capital of the Netherlands and site of the World Court. Here, in a beautiful palace, erected by the generosity of Andrew Carnegie, have occurred momentous movements for world peace as well as significant attempts to create a court wherein the varied types of international relations can be freely discussed and arbitrated. This organization has also done much to stimulate and encourage similar organizations, whose aims have been to avert actual warfare by peaceful understanding. This action by the major countries of the world to settle their difficulties by orderly conferences has had its echo in the high schools of the United States, where students are now working together to solve their problems more satisfactorily in the clubs, organizations, and student governments of modern preparatory schools.

Symbolic of the winter sports wonderland of Sweden is the lithe, graceful form of the skier — perfection in the world of sports. During the long, cold winter the entire country is one vast expanse of ice and snow, affording the athletic-loving Swedes a marvelous opportunity to use the sleds, skates, and skis for which they are so famous, and making them champions in out-door agility. The crisp air is invigorating and healthful, for Sweden has a lower death rate than the majority of European countries, and her people are known for the vigorous lives which they lead. Is it any wonder that this land of the frozen ground and the stimulating atmosphere has become a veritable mecca for sports lovers the world over?

In South America, Spanish customs, which were once so prevalent, are now almost obsolete. However, one of the few places from which the Spanish influence has not entirely vanished is the sleepy, sunny countryside of Ecuador, where the brutal, but picturesque bull-fight is to the Ecuadorian what baseball is to the American. Perhaps it is the magnificent color and pageantry of this feature which captures the heart of the Indian, or perhaps it is lust for the sight of blood which holds him spellbound. But even the most casual observer will admit that the triumphant entrance of the picadors, the banderilleros, and the matadors in their multi-colored garments amid the sounds of trumpets and the clapping of hands is enough to start the blood racing and is ample reason for the prominence of this sport in Ecuador.

Merchants and manufacturers all over the globe are constantly on the lookout for new and spectacular methods of displaying their wares to the public. Therefore, since advertising has determined to a large extent the ways in which people everywhere spend their money, it has automatically become the "persuasive partner of modern industry." The United States, always among the first countries to incorporate original ideas, has had a fair amount of success in calling attention to its products by means of the aeroplane. Planes equipped with loud speakers and gay streamers fastened to their rudders have drawn the eyes and ears of Americans skyward, making them conscious not only of the advertised product but also of the great future of aviation. The latest and most fascinating method of aeroplane advertising is skywriting; and although it is not likely that this unique device will become as prevalent as the billboards which now line our highways, it is a tribute to the ingenuity of modern business men.

ALMA MATER

To the high ideals that thou hast called us
We pledge allegiance strong and true,
And own a love that e'er will deepen,
Thomas Jefferson, for you.
And as we look into the future
What e'er our destinies may be,
O Alma Mater, we will cherish
Fond memories of thee.
We love thy teachings and traditions,
The things no books can ever give;
For thou hast shown a deeper meaning,
Thou hast taught us how to live;
And we are glad to be thy children,
To toast thy future worth and fame;
So sing we now to Thomas Jefferson,
God's blessing on her name.

Shawen Greets New Students

Dear Students:

There are over four hundred new students enrolled this term. We welcome you to the privileges, duties and responsibilities of the senior high school. We shall expect you to make good use of the opportunities to study and to serve in some helpful capacity. While this school puts first work first, it also offers many opportunities to take part in special activities.

If you make a good impression, you may be asked to participate in some extra activity soon. We should like our new students to make some contribution to the general welfare.

Everyone connected with this organization will be glad to lend you a helping hand if you are perplexed or troubled about school matters. We sincerely hope you will enjoy high school life.

Sincerely,

[illegible] Shawen

First row: D. Call, M. Blackburn, Miss Botto, B. Blunt, S. Harris; Second row: A. Sowell, E. Paul, N. Rogers, J. Wilcox, V. Seay, L. Davis; Third row: B. Angel, M. Thomas, G. Peters; Fourth row: A. McDowell, D. Shelton, K. Felthaus, E. Duval, K. Flanagan, B. Nelson, G. Roper.

The class of '40 looks back on two years of achievement with pride and satisfaction. As Sophomores they began their first activities with an interclass basketball tournament, which afforded them a chance to become acquainted with the members of their class. When they felt themselves to be a part of the family at Thomas Jefferson, they joined clubs and committees and were active in Student Participation and in athletics. Under the sponsorship of Miss Botto and with the splendid work of the officers and council, the juniors were outstanding in all school events. The class of '40 enters upon its senior year with such successes as Stunt Night and the Junior-Senior Dance behind them and even greater things to anticipate for the future.

. . . AMONG OUR ALUMNI

(a) Anne Folkes '38, who elected to complete her training at Hollins College, finds posing for her picture a pleasant pastime.

(b) As a result of her excellent work in French, Adelaid Boze '36 won a scholarship from Sweetbriar College to study at the Sorbonne.

(c) David Kjellstrom '37, now a sophomore at the University of Virginia, seems to be enjoying his ice cream. We wonder if it's because it comes only once a week.

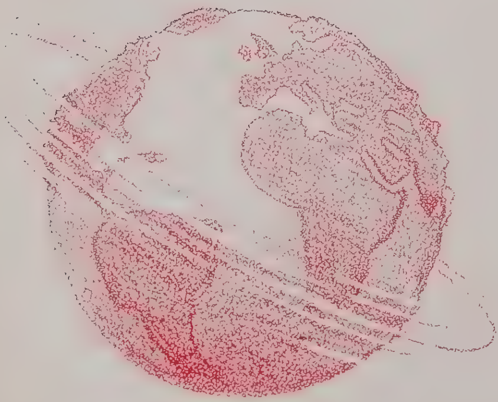
(d) Claire Hulcher '38 seems to be taking advantage of her leisure time by relaxing upon the steps of her Alma Mater, the College of William and Mary.

(e) Judging from the broad grins on the faces of Edmund Massie '37 (left) and Leslie Phillips '38, it isn't all work at the University of Richmond.

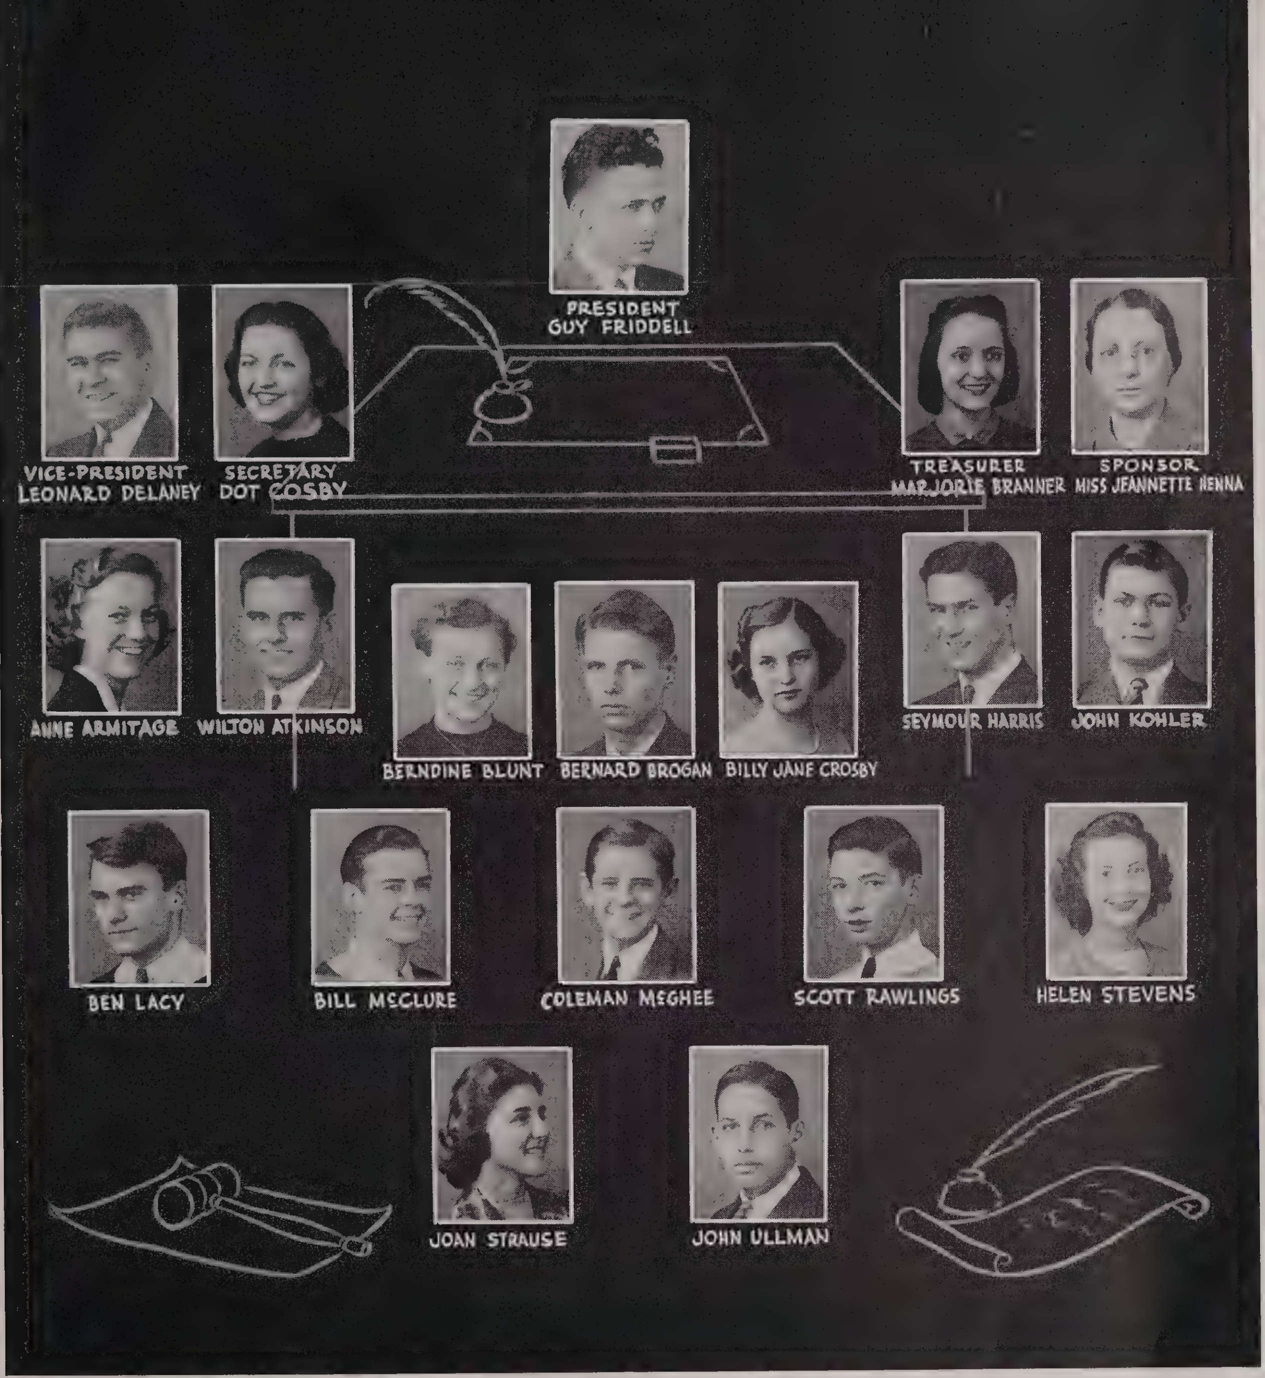
(f) Skiing her way through International School at Geneva is Elizabeth Wallerstein '37, who has entered the University of Chicago to finish her studies begun abroad.

(g) Don't let those serious faces of Eddie Adams '37 (left) and Tom Brogan '37 fool you. It's just the glare they gave that candid camera fiend who snapped them on the campus of the University of Richmond.

(h) Latham Thigpen '37 seems to be deep in thought, while George Watson James III '36 is more interested in watching the click of the camera at this informal gathering at Washington and Lee.



CLUBS



SENATE

The Senate is the upper house of the Student Participation Association, consisting of eighteen members from the three classes. It is presided over by the president of the student body, and each committee under the student organization is headed by a member of the Senate. Suggestions of the students for the improvement of the school are brought to the Senate, discussed, and acted upon, since it is the policy forming body of the association.

dent Participation as well as to refer to the council the suggestions of his class. Because this body is the link between the Senate and the students, it occupies a strategic position in Student Participation.

STUDENT PARTICIPATION ASSOCIATION

Feeling that a knowledge of those traits which play a vital part in the later life of students as citizens of the United States is as important as the scholastic routine work, the Student Participation Association has forged rapidly ahead during the past year. Under the guidance of Miss Jeanette Henna and the presidency of Guy Friddell and with the cooperative work of the Senate and the House of Representatives, the point system is nearing completion. This method of valuing activities is intended to limit those students who carry a majority of them in order to give the student body at large a greater opportunity to participate in school undertakings.

However, the outstanding enterprise of the year was to install precinct voting — that is, voting at polls as is the procedure when electing the legislature of the state of Virginia. It is believed that this method will help train students in the principles of democracy and the choice of leaders, as it will familiarize them with the qualities required for the men in the high positions and enable them to cast their votes more surely for those they consider best qualified to represent them.

The standing committees, such as the Cafeteria, Recreation, Reception, and the Honor Study have raised the quality of their already fine work. The cooperation of the majority of students is making possible greater results in the realm of student government, and it is hoped that the coming years will see all members of the student body active in Student Participation.

STUDENT LIBRARY ASSISTANTS

The pleasant girls seen behind the library desk are student assistants who devote one study period every day to helping the librarians in any way possible. The Student Assistants' Club holds weekly meetings during which it discusses difficulties in the library and plans to correct them. The duties give them valuable training; for though not all of the members aspire to becoming librarians, a knowledge of the work is an asset to everyone at some time.

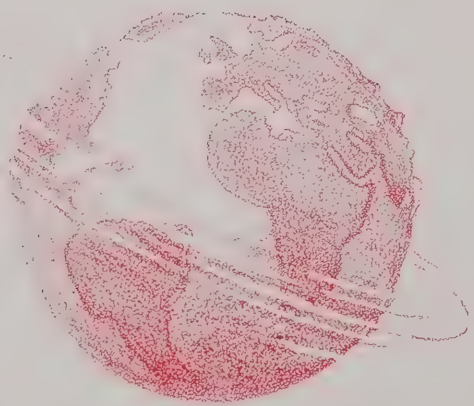
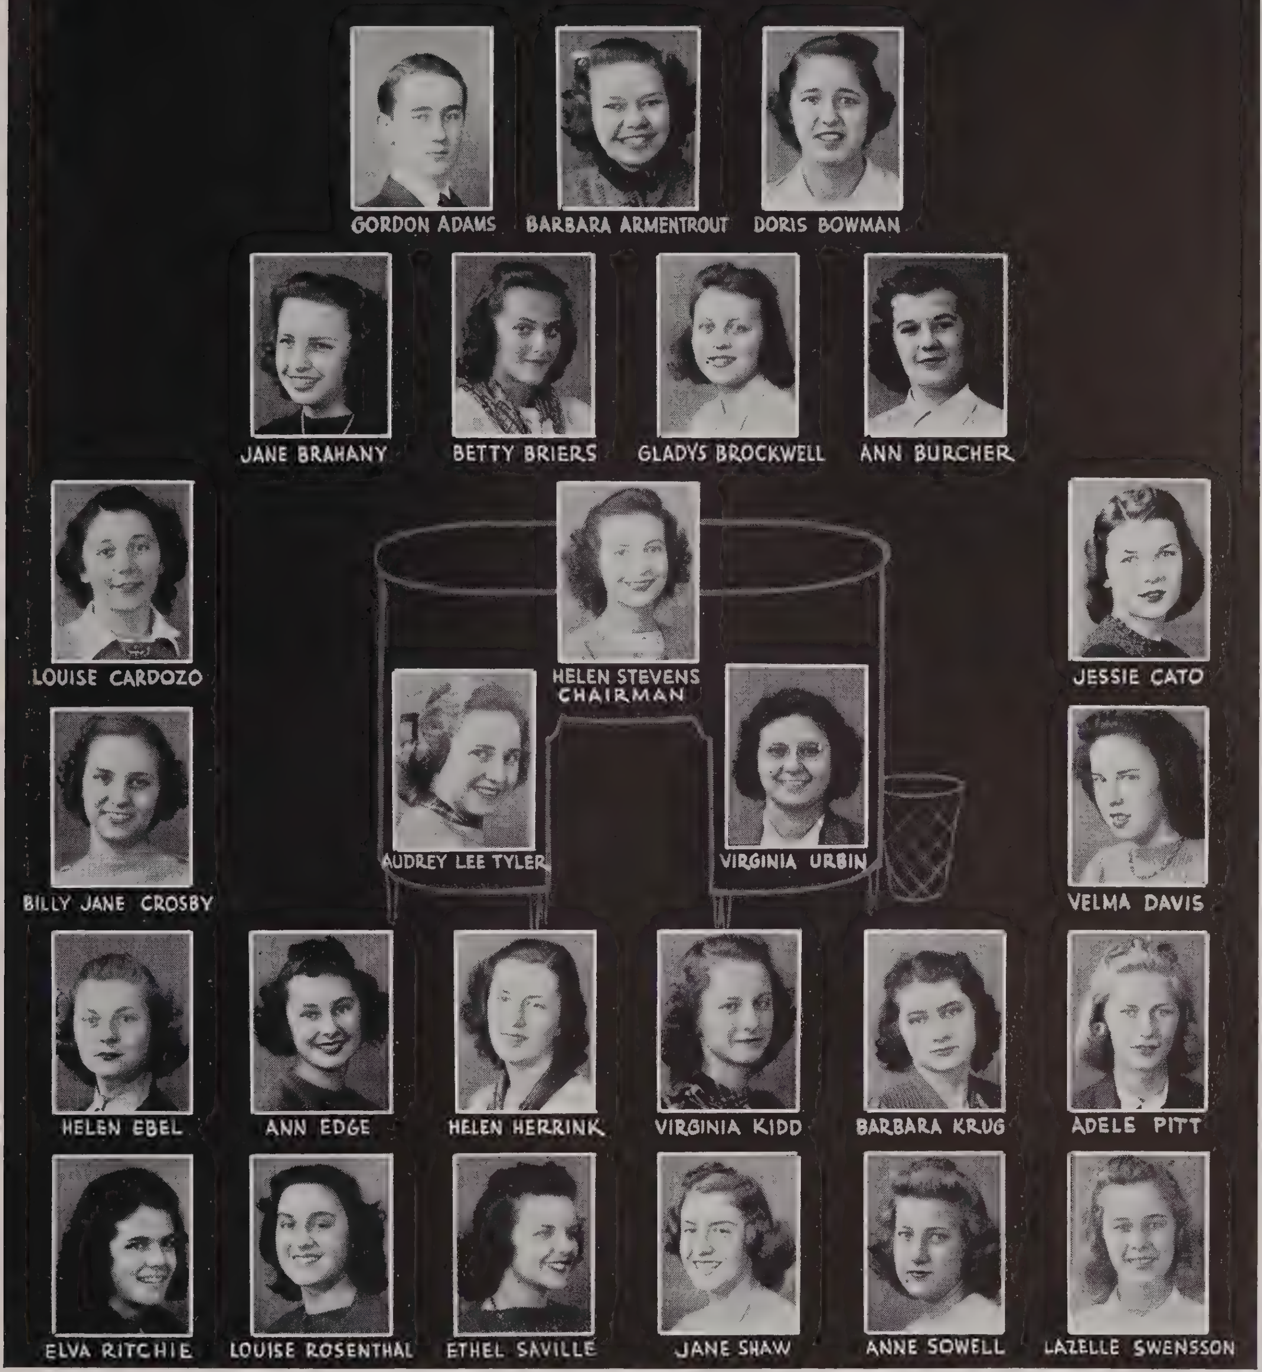
OFFICE AID and BULLETIN BOARD COMMITTEES

The Office Aid Committee was organized to aid the office staff and the principal by carrying notices and running errands. The committee is not only of great help to the office force but also fosters good fellowship between the students and faculty.

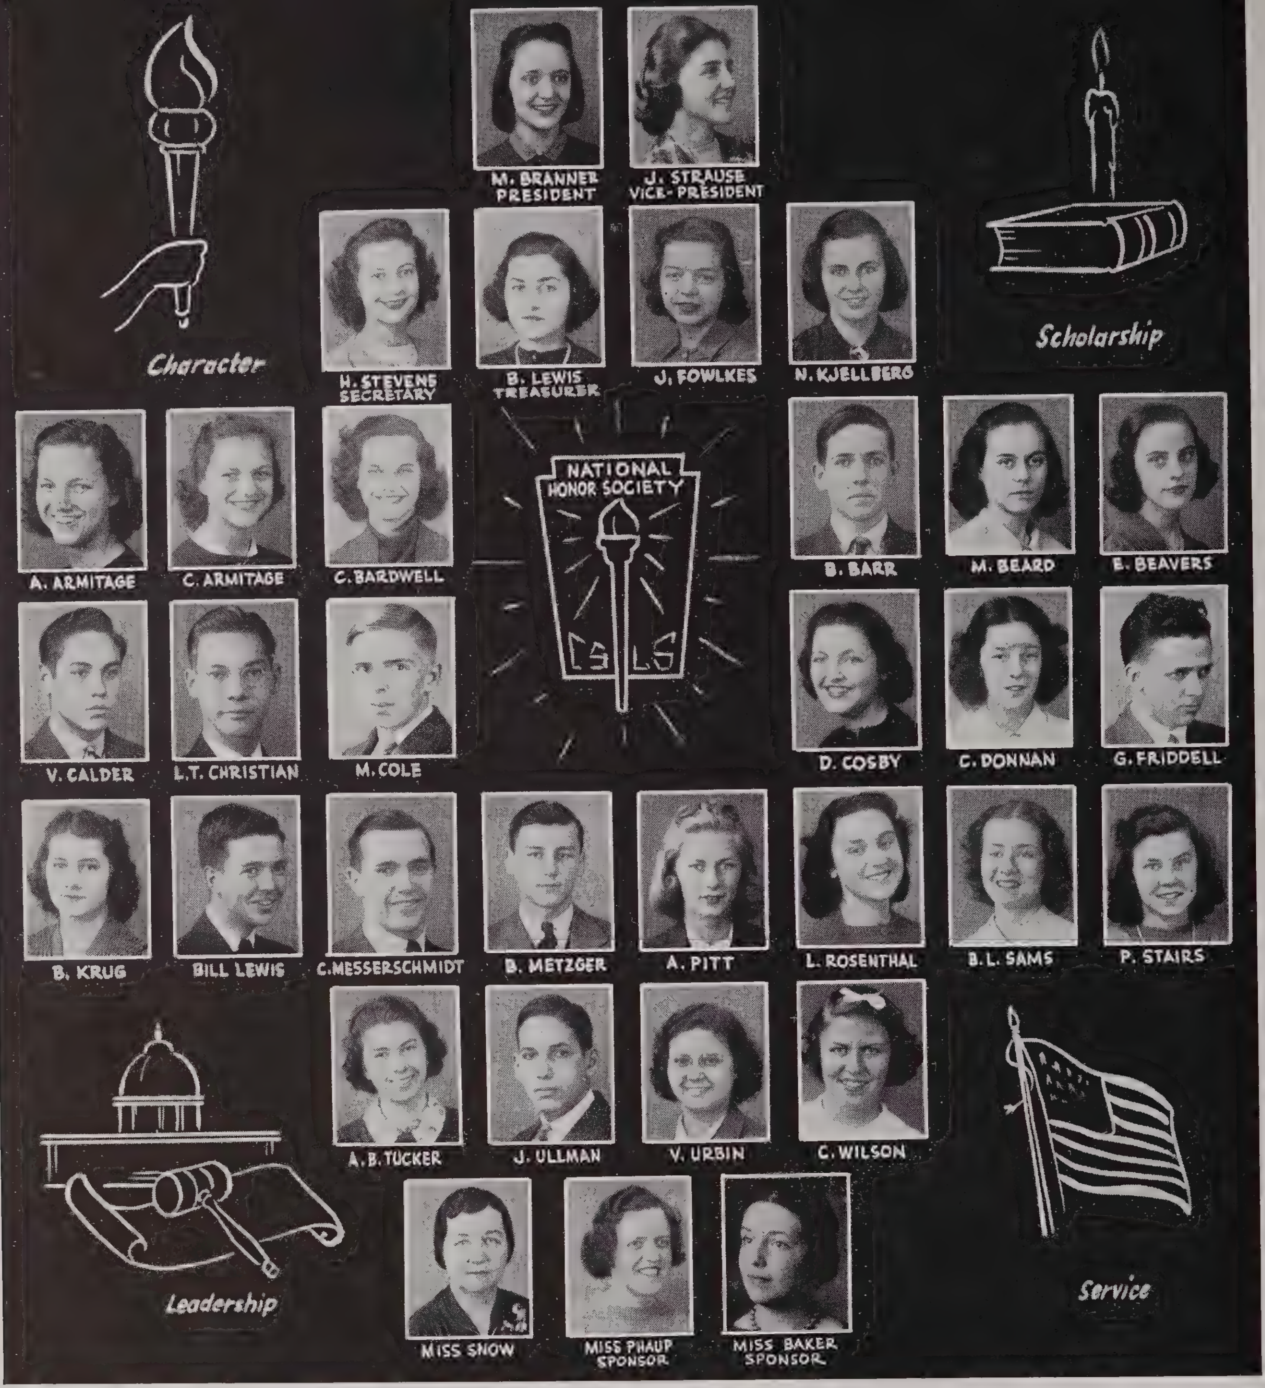
The Bulletin Board Committee, under the chairmanship of a Senate member, has charge of placing notices daily on the six bulletin boards and aids to a large extent in keeping the students informed of school events.

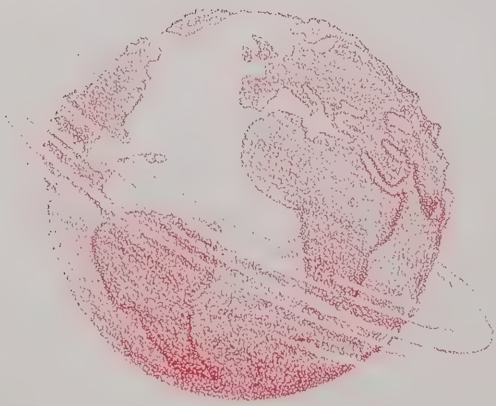




RECEPTION COMMITTEE

When a visitor enters Thomas Jefferson, he is welcomed by a member of the Reception Committee, who sits at the new desk in the front hall. The desk, incidentally, was a recent gift of the class of '36. The committee operates under the sponsorship of Miss Thelma Bryant and is a project of the Student Participation Association. Teachers, students, and outsiders have hailed the committee's work as a great step towards efficiency in Student Participation.

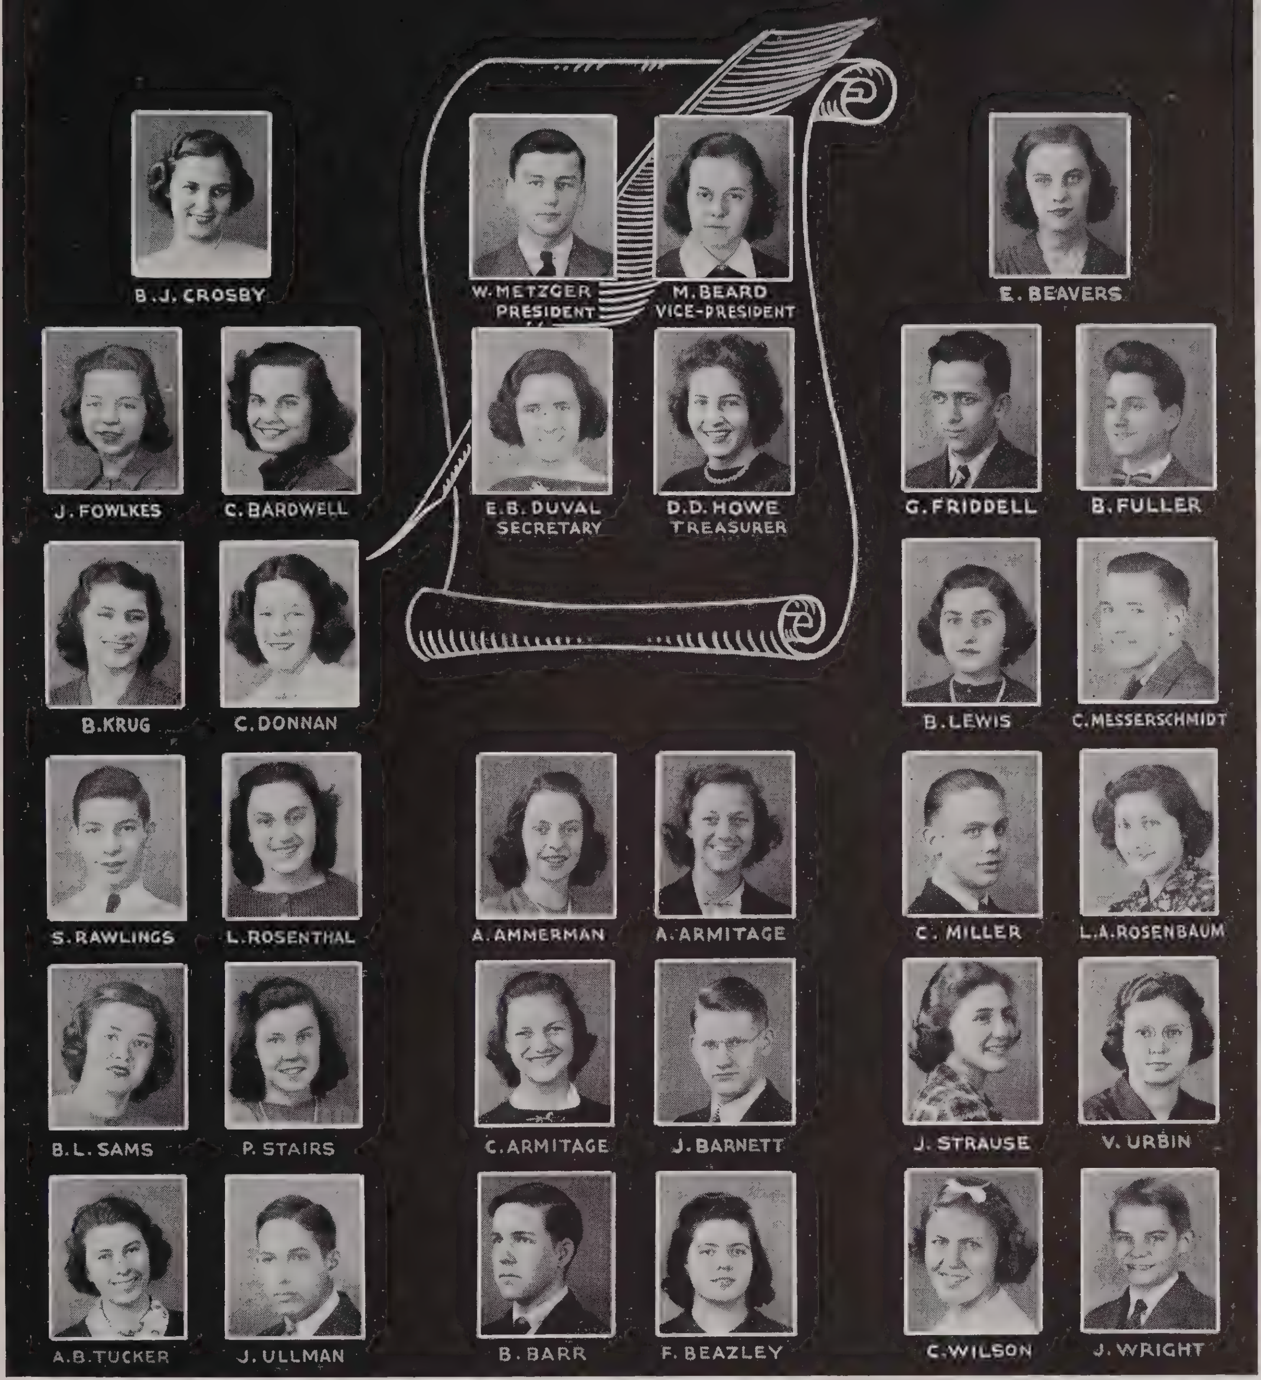




NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The Thomas Jefferson Chapter of the National Honor Society was founded in nineteen hundred thirty-five. By means of a solemn and impressive tap service, the new members are taken into the society, membership being based on the qualities of character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

With Miss Minnie Rob Phaup as sponsor, the society takes an active part in school activities. Helping sophomore home rooms and coaching fellow students are the outstanding projects of this society.



QUILL AND SCROLL

The Quill and Scroll, a literary honor society, has chapters in every part of the world. It is open to members of the literary and business staffs of the school publications who have shown outstanding ability in their respective positions. Since nineteen hundred thirty-six, when it was first organized, the Thomas Jefferson chapter, now under the sponsorship of Mrs. Mears, has been active in developing the interest of both members and aspirants in becoming better journalists.

LA PETITE ACADEMIE FRANCAISE

La Petite Academie Francaise is the first honorary language society to be formed at Thomas Jefferson. It is composed of members from the upper French classes who are interested in improving their knowledge of French and in arousing enthusiasm for the Romance languages. Meetings are conducted in the French tongue. The programs, consisting of games and talks on famous Frenchmen, increase the interest of the members and encourage them to continue French in their college years.

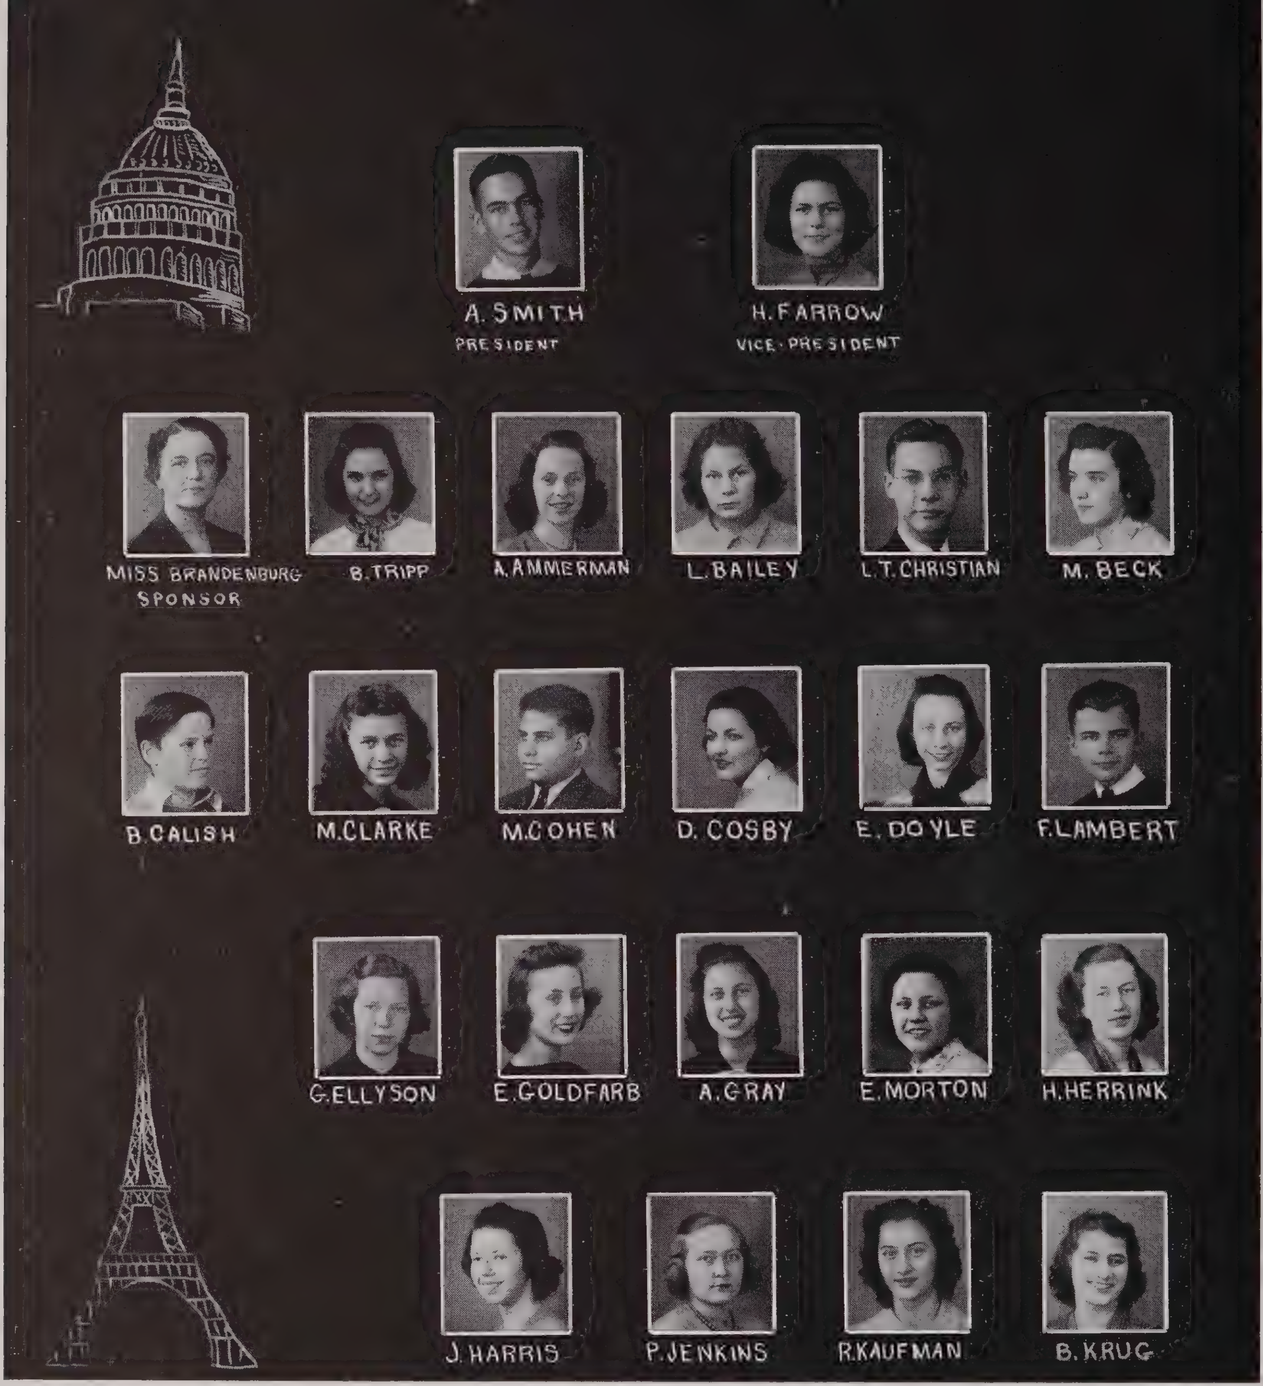
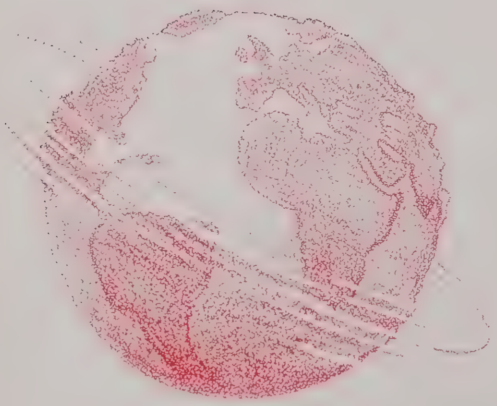
The vice president and a committee of his own choosing plan the programs, which may be either serious or amusing in nature. The club dues go to a fund with which the members hope to purchase something of lasting value to the modern language department.





HISTORY CLUB

The History Club was organized in nineteen hundred thirty-two under the direction of Miss Virginia Sydnor. When the constitution was framed, it provided that a new sponsor should be elected every year. Its purpose is to present facts of historical knowledge

Those students interested in banking, secretarial work, typing, bookkeeping, and other commercial courses become members of the Commercial Club.

Since the club is supplementary to the commercial courses, only those students who are anticipating a commercial career are eligible for membership.

The members of the club visit banks and other places of business in the city so that they may familiarize themselves with the business world in a manner not afforded by any other means.

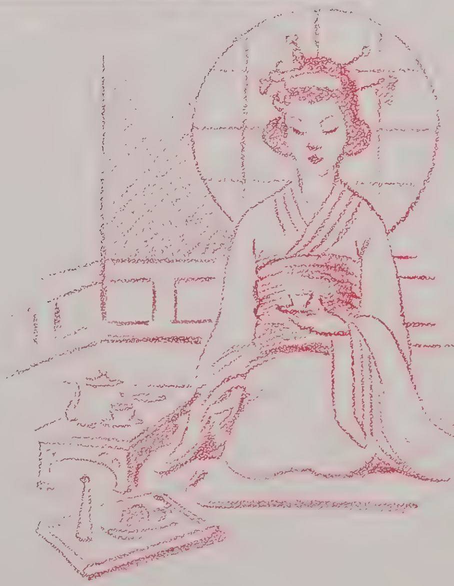
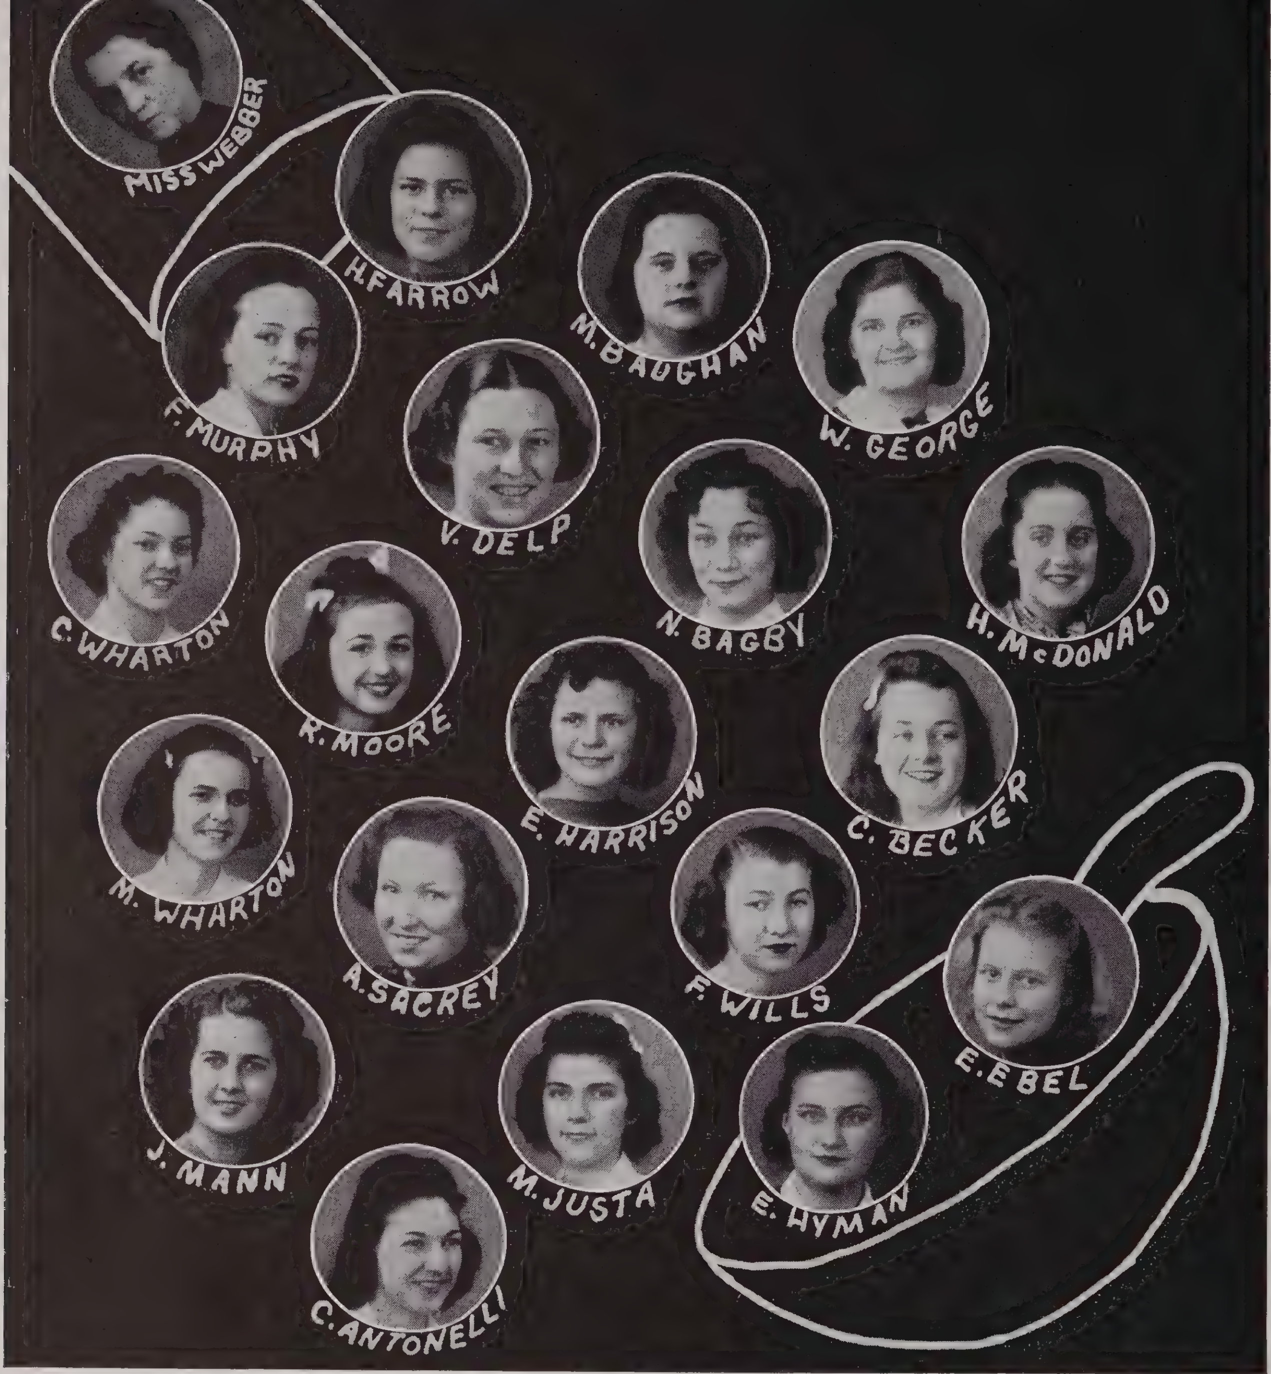
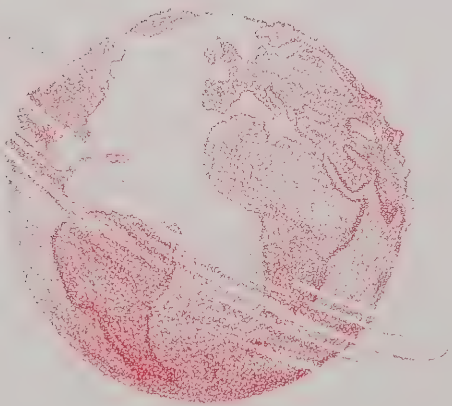
MATHEMATICS CLUB

Over half of our student body takes some form of mathematics. However, in regular classes it is impossible to study the interesting and more general uses of math as does the Mathematics Club. Anyone who has completed geometry is eligible for membership. The club's activities include talks by prominent mathematicians and solving difficult or catchy problems. An outstanding aim of the club has been to practice efficiency in the use of the slide rule.







HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Realizing that attractive personalities, gracious manners, and good personal habits are important in the life of any girl, the Home Economics Club strives to foster the development of such assets. In their meetings they discuss cosmetics, clothing, etiquette, and selection of household goods, and the activities of the club consist of picnics, teas, parties, and trips to museums or historic spots. The membership is limited to girls who take the food and clothing courses.

THE THOMAS JEFFERSON ART CLUB

The present Thomas Jefferson Art Club was reorganized in the fall of nineteen thirty-eight. The society has forty-six members who work under the guidance of their sponsor, Mrs. Davis. They meet every other Thursday to paint and to attend exhibits and lectures at the various museums. The group is a member of the Virginia Art Alliance and each month sponsors an outside exhibit of work to increase art appreciation in the school.

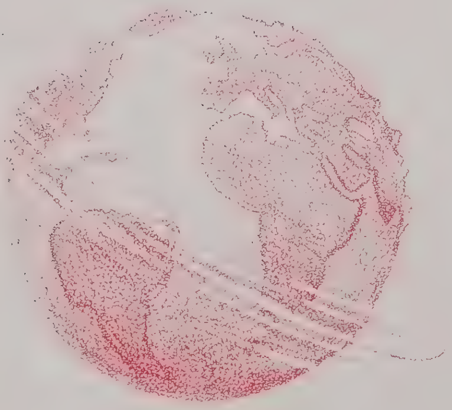
PHOTOPLAY CLUB



The Photoplay Club, the only one of its kind in Richmond, was formed for the purpose of stimulating interest in better pictures among students of Thomas Jefferson High School. Under the able sponsorship of Mr. Grady Garrett, it has done much to aid in furthering intelligent motion picture appreciation among its members. Once or twice each month the club is invited to see outstanding pictures at local theatres, later discussing them in the club meetings.

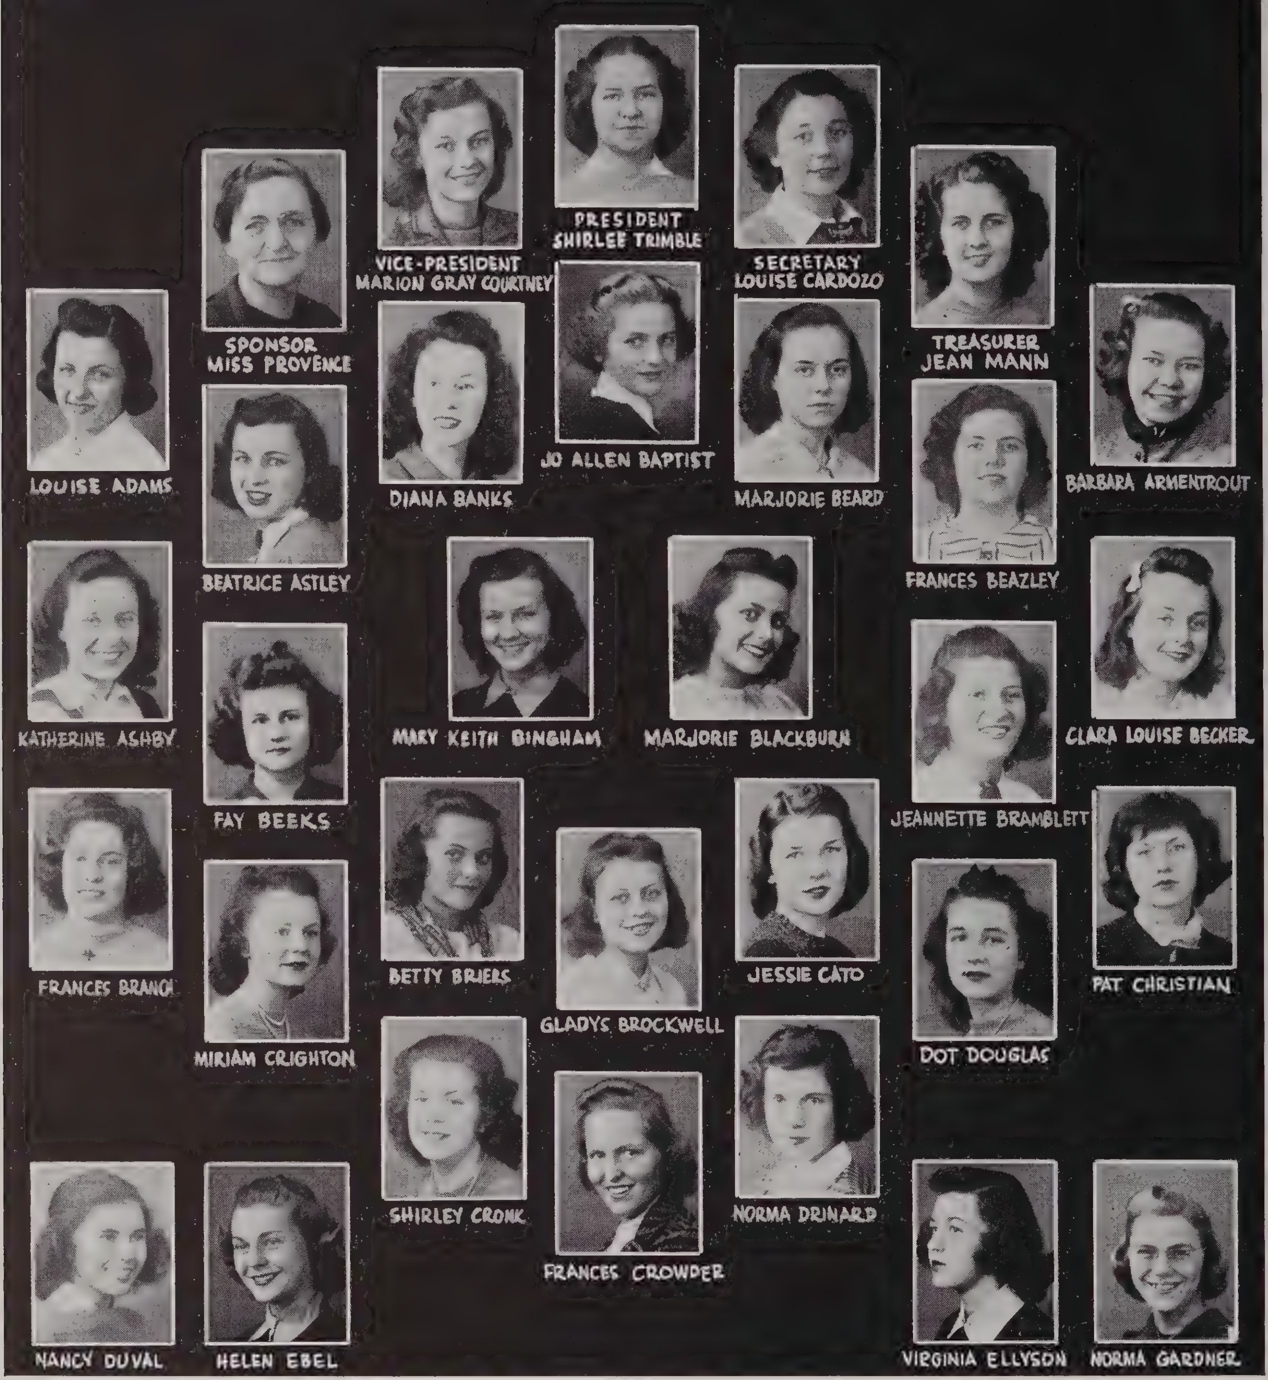
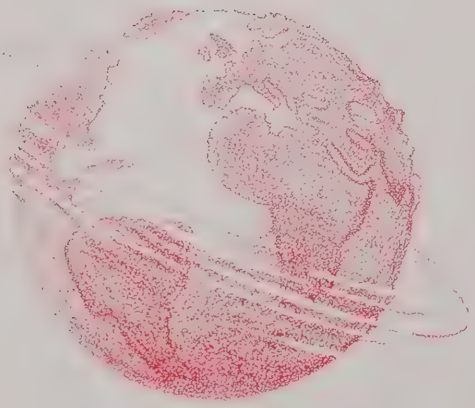
CAMERA CLUB

The Camera Club was organized to increase the understanding and appreciation of photography among the picture-taking fans of Thomas Jefferson. Meeting bi-weekly, the club discusses photography in all its phases and frequently visits the local studios to see how the principles which they have learned, are applied.





SENIOR GIRL RESERVES

The Senior Girl Reserves is a branch of the Y. W. C. A. It has a wide range of interests, the most important being to promote fellowship in the school as well as in the city. The blue triangle represents the threefold purpose of the club, which is to develop mind, body, and spirit. Every Christmas and Easter its members do service work throughout Richmond. Other activities are a play in the assembly, dances, outings, and lectures.

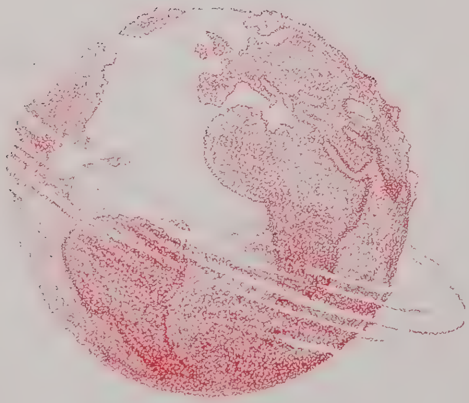
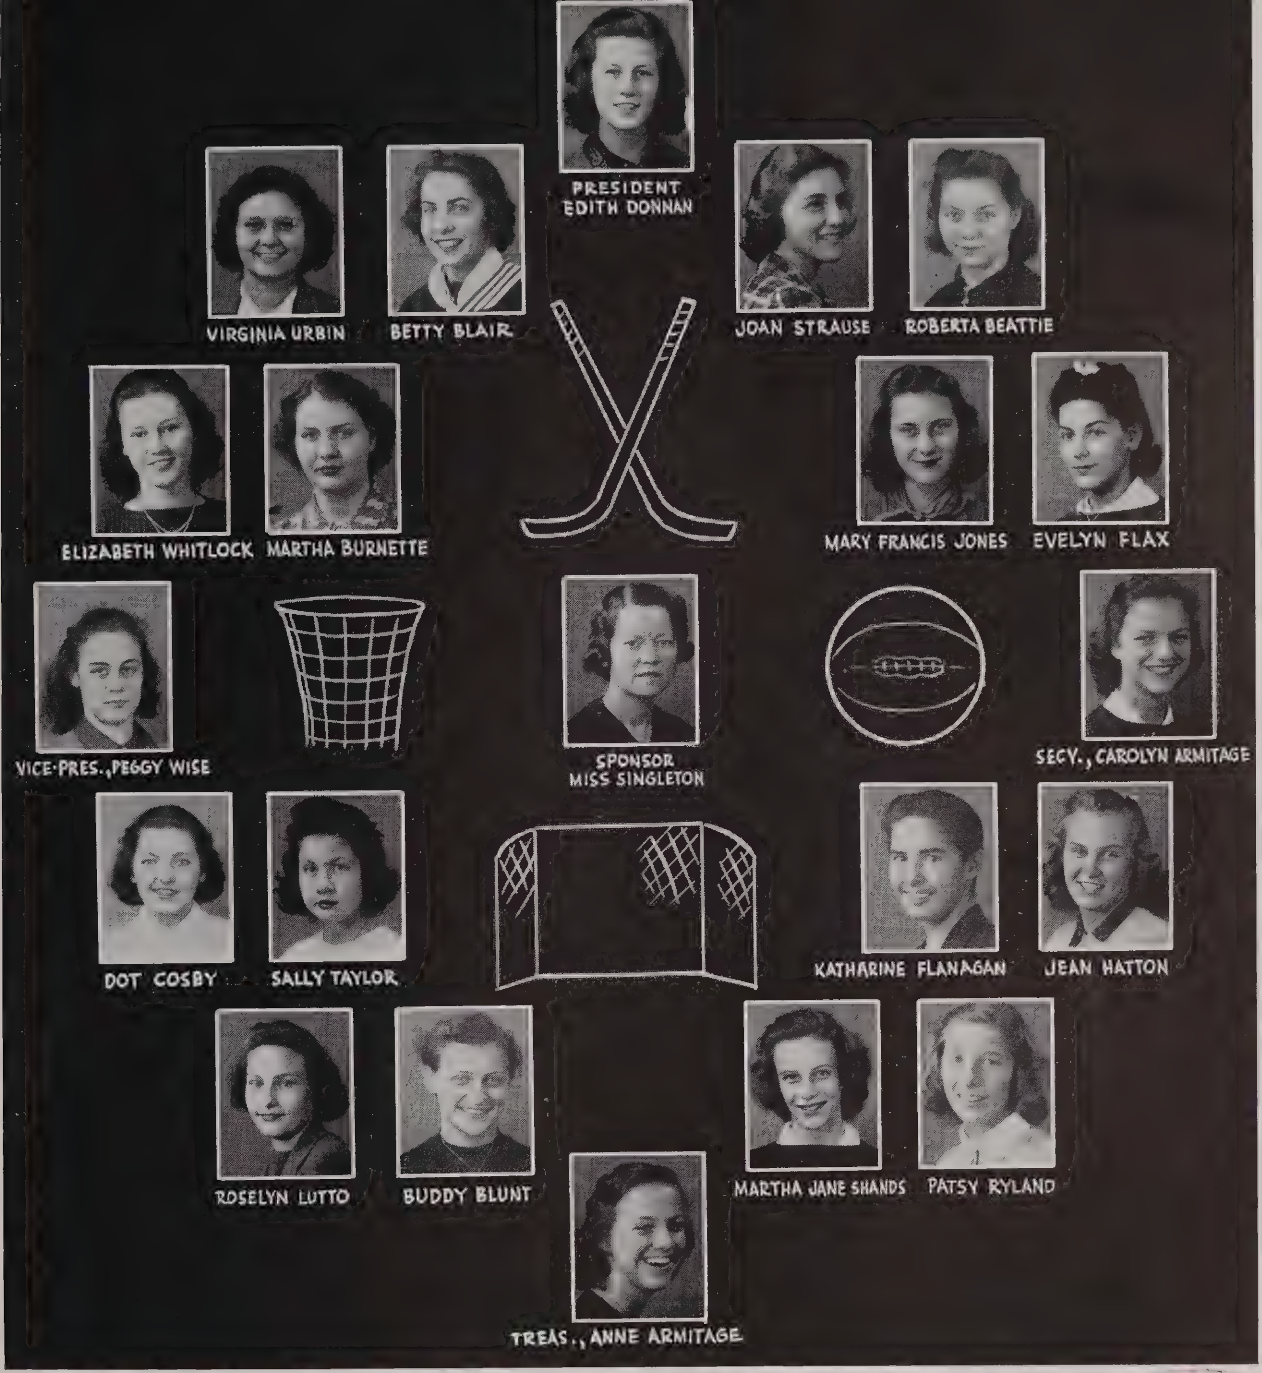
JUNIOR GIRL RESERVES CLUB

The Junior Girl Reserves Club is open to sophomores who are interested in the Y. W. C. A. and its activities. The members lend their services at Easter and Christmas in helping the less fortunate. During the year they participate in such activities as plays, teas, outings, and discussions about the things most interesting to girls of that age. The club's purpose is to elevate the thoughts of its members and to serve as an inspiration to them.





GIRLS' MONOGRAM CLUB

With the purpose of stimulating good sportsmanship and arousing interest in girls' athletics, the Girls' Monogram Club of Thomas Jefferson was organized. Its membership is limited to those girls receiving either a first or a second team letter in the major sports, basketball and hockey. Outstanding among the activities of this club are an annual rummage sale, the sponsoring of the faculty-student basketball game, and an outing at the end of the second semester.

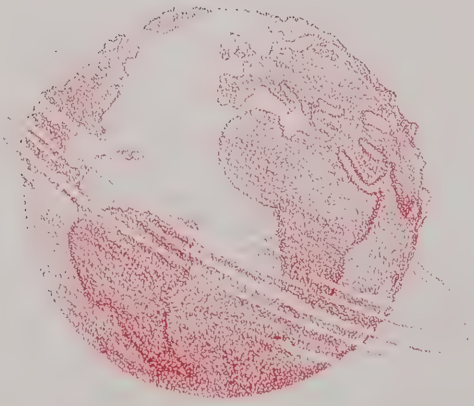
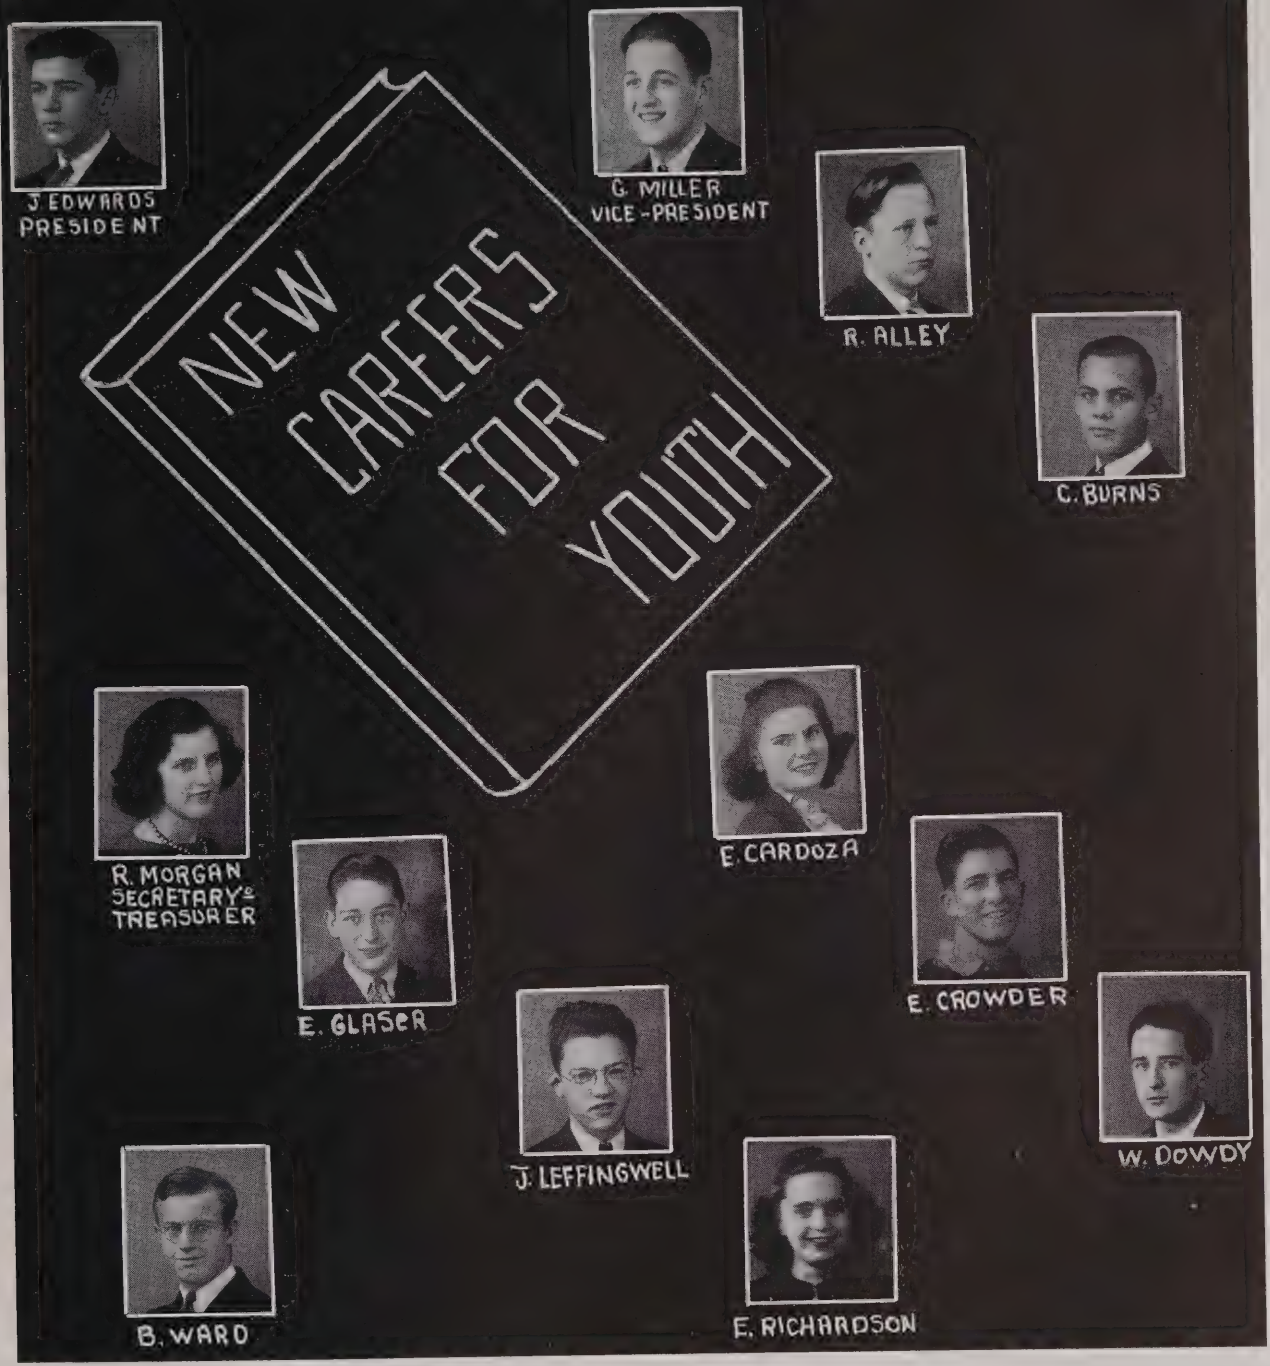
SCIENCE CLUB

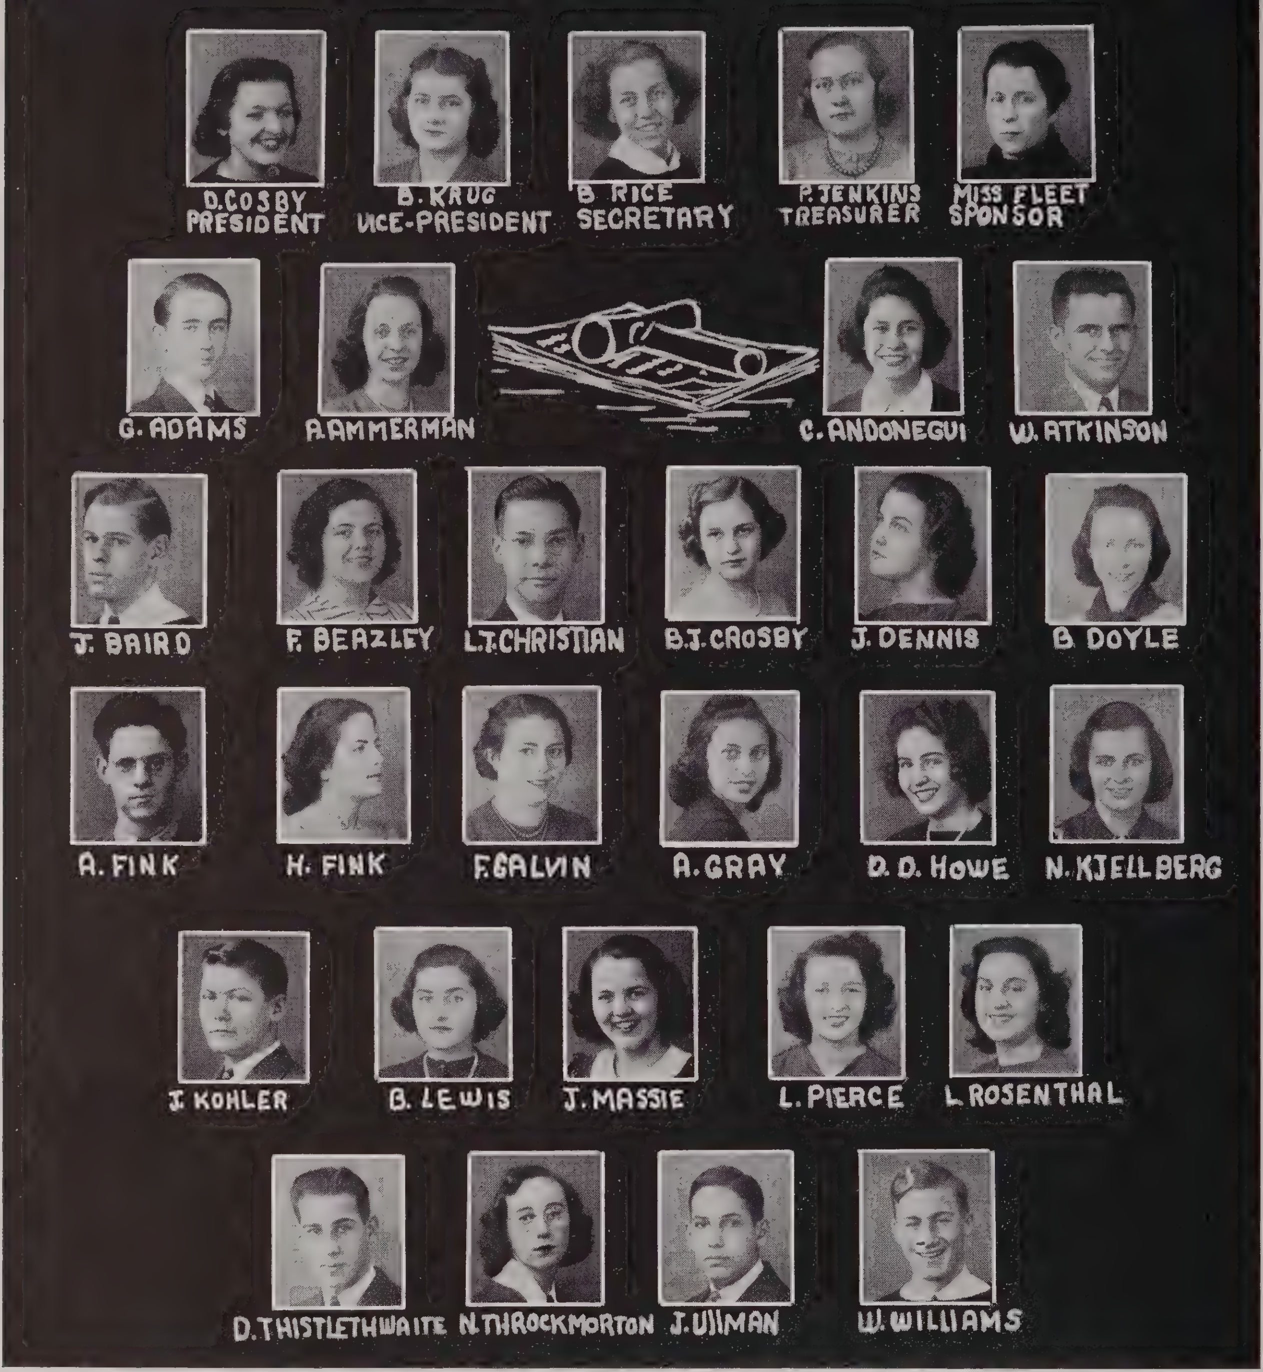


The aim of the Science Club is to give students who have completed one year of high school science a deeper insight into the mysteries of biology, physics, and chemistry. At the meetings the members are entertained by talks on current scientific problems, which are often elucidated by experiments and movies. Visits are made to factories and business houses in order that students may realize how greatly the world is dependent upon the application of scientific principles.



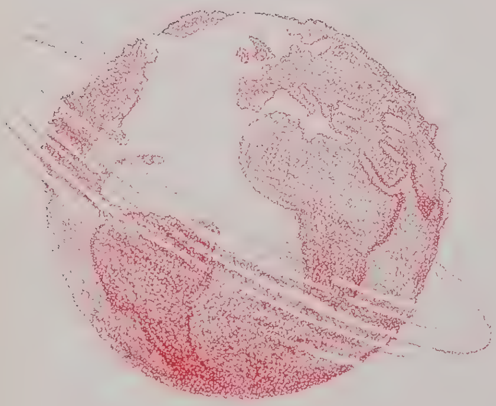
VOCATIONAL ECONOMICS CLUB

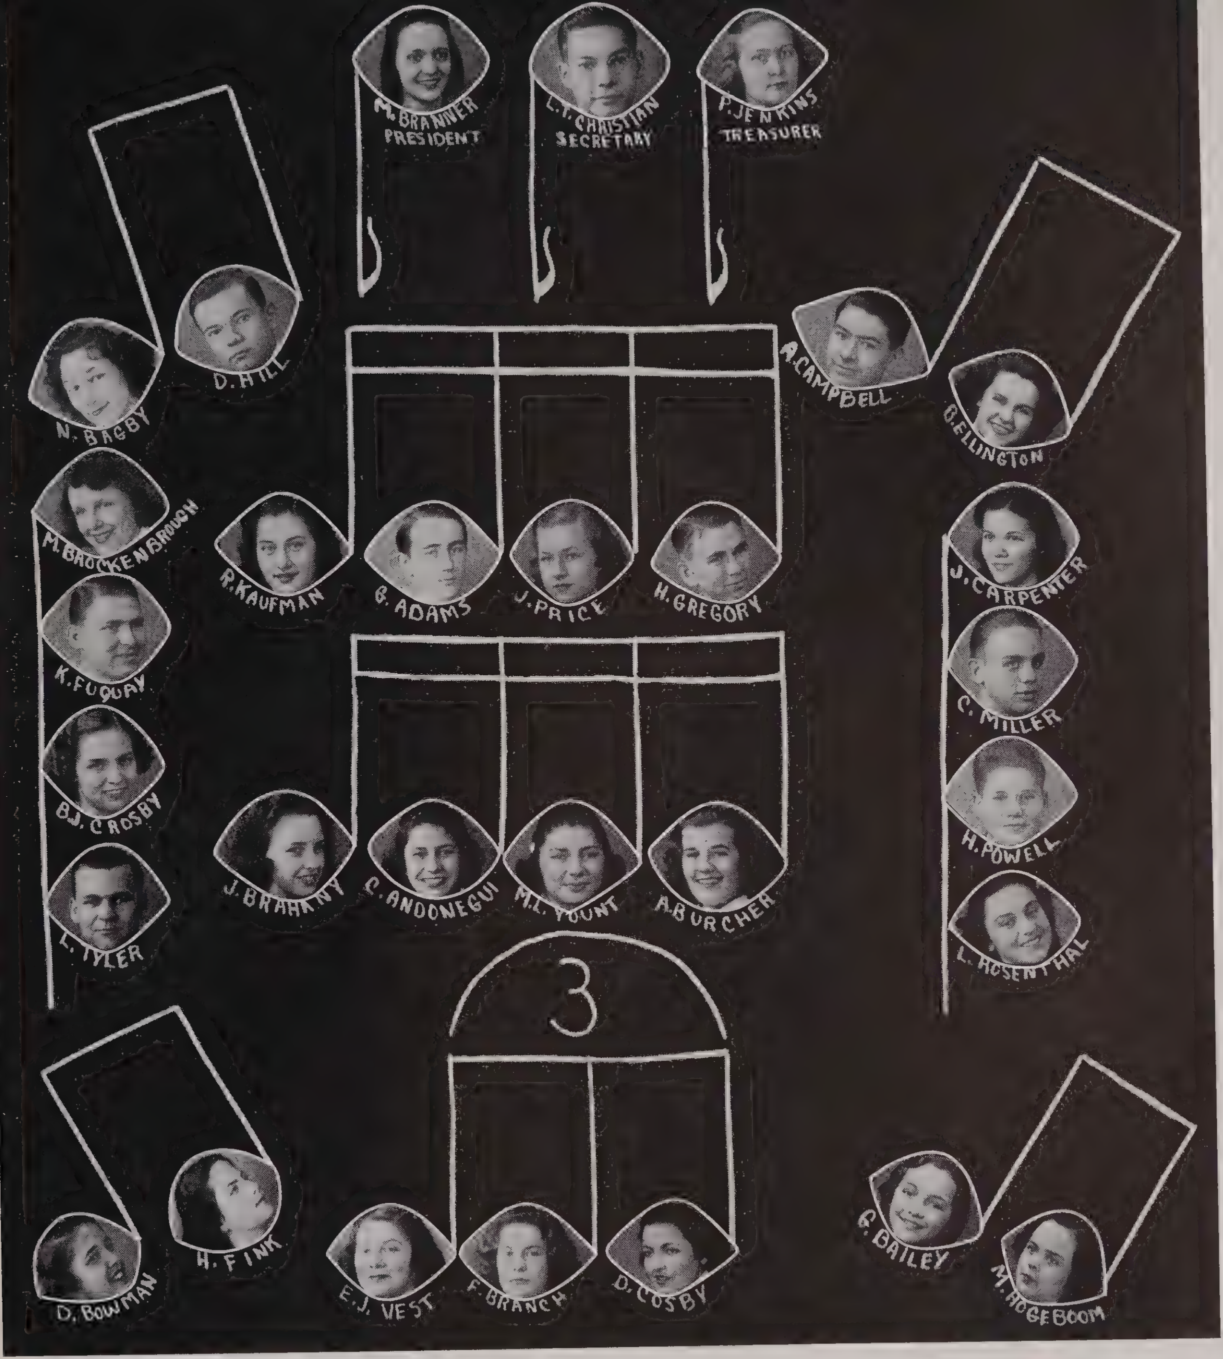
Organized by students working with local business firms under the vocational economics department, the Vocational Economics Club is one of the latest organizations formed at Thomas Jefferson. The members meet and discuss with their sponsor, Mr. S. H. Young, the progress of their training in office work, automobile repairs, salesmanship, electrical work, beauty culture, or any other vocation in which they participate. Many problems that confront the students in their work are discussed and often solved.



JUNTO DEBATING SOCIETY

Debating is so well received by our student body that the Junto Debating Society has become one of the most popular organizations in the school. The members have proved themselves capable of conducting interesting and informative assembly programs. This year one program was modeled on the current broadcast, "Town Hall of the Air." The society strives to create a general interest in debates and assists in sending a team to compete in the annual state debating contest.





JEFF-CLEF CLUB

Under the leadership of Miss Thelma Bryant the Jeff-Clef Club has completed another successful year at Thomas Jefferson High School. This club was formed in nineteen hundred thirty-five by students who were interested in music and music appreciation. It strives to present interesting and educational programs for the benefit of its members, including in these programs addresses and performances by outstanding musicians and music lovers of the city. In addition, it presents an assembly program every semester.

THOMAS JEFFERSON BAND

Thomas Jefferson's Band, under the direction of Mr. Sinclair, has improved steadily since its organization seven years ago.

Consisting of seventy-six pieces, the band performs on several occasions each year. Among these are assembly programs and the annual concert presented in conjunction with the other music groups of the school.

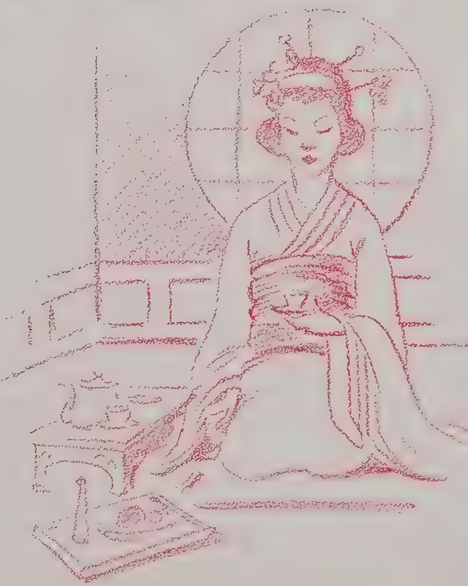
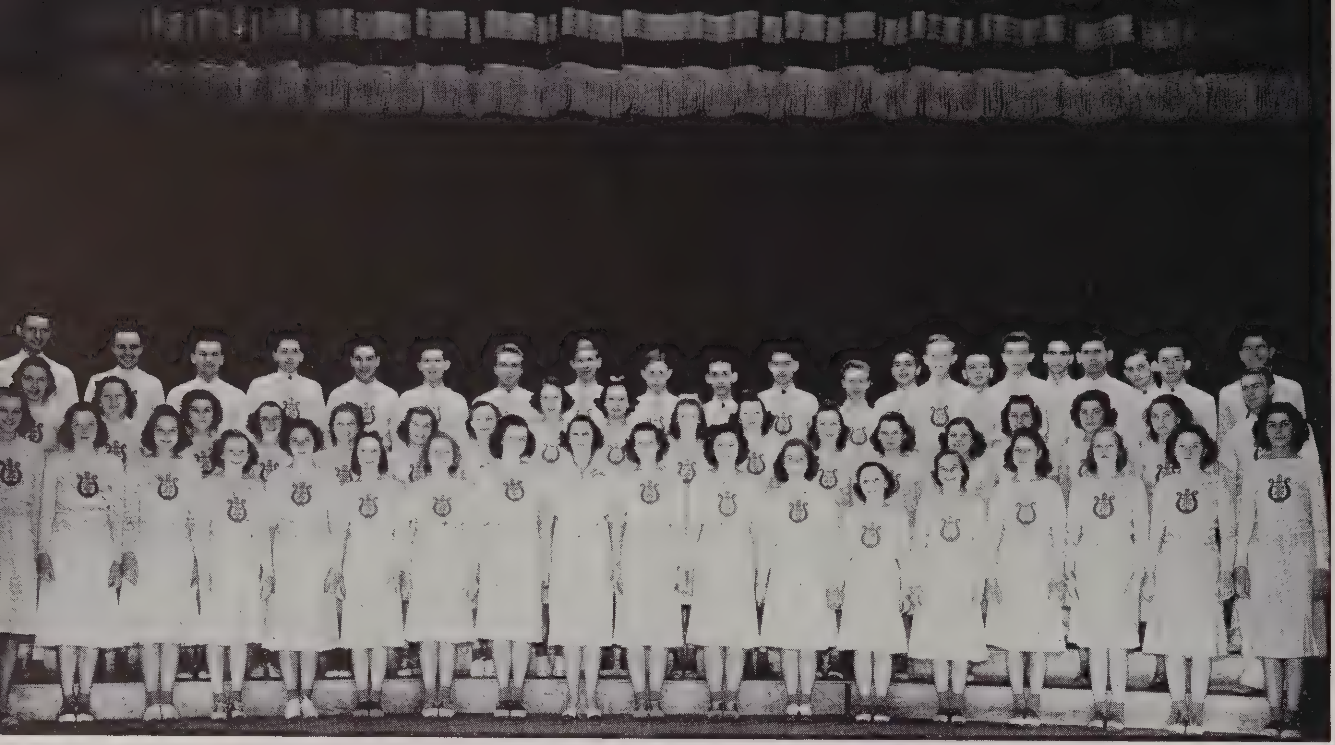
Although the band has just completed one of its most successful years, it is looking forward to an even better season in nineteen hundred thirty-nine.





GLEE CLUB

The Thomas Jefferson Glee Club operates under a constitution drawn up by the members and their director, Mrs. Christine King. The officers and a council form the executive board to uphold the standards and enforce the laws of the club. Its annual activities include presentation of several local radio broadcasts and participation in the State Music Contest, a spring music festival, Handel's Christmas Oratorio, "The Messiah," and a concert with the school band and orchestra.

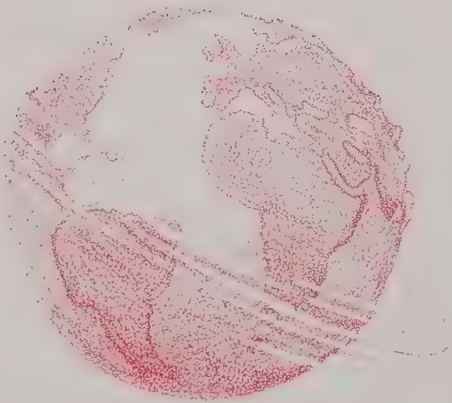
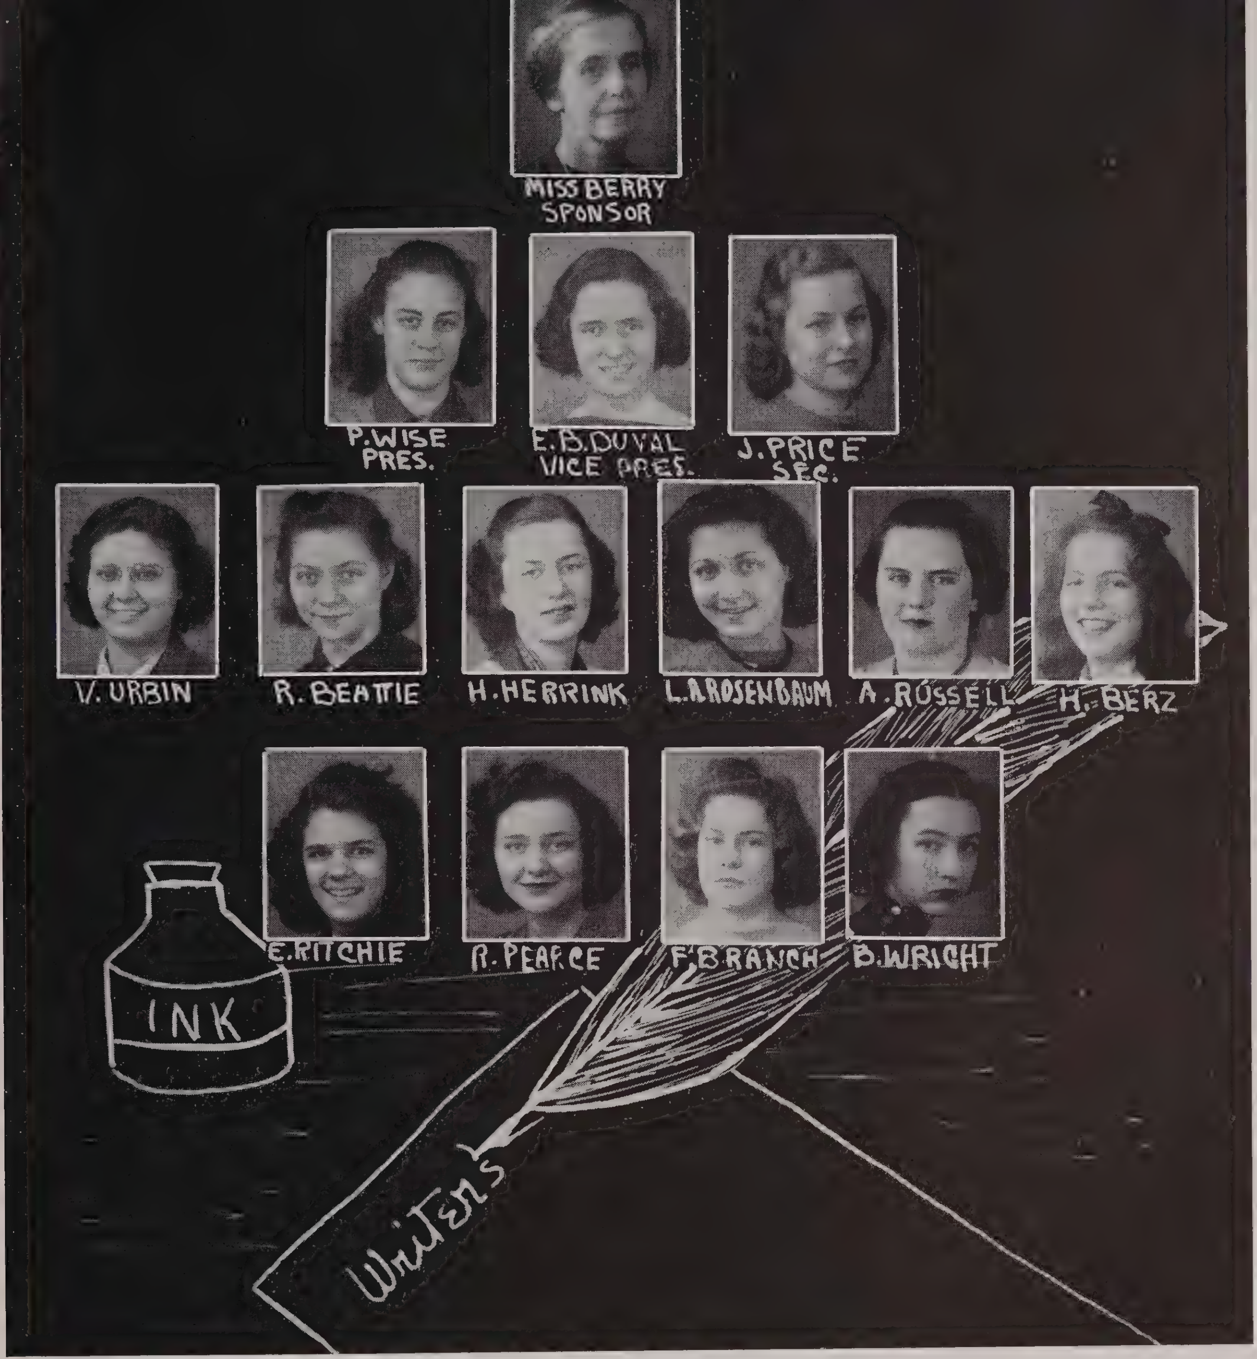
ORCHESTRA

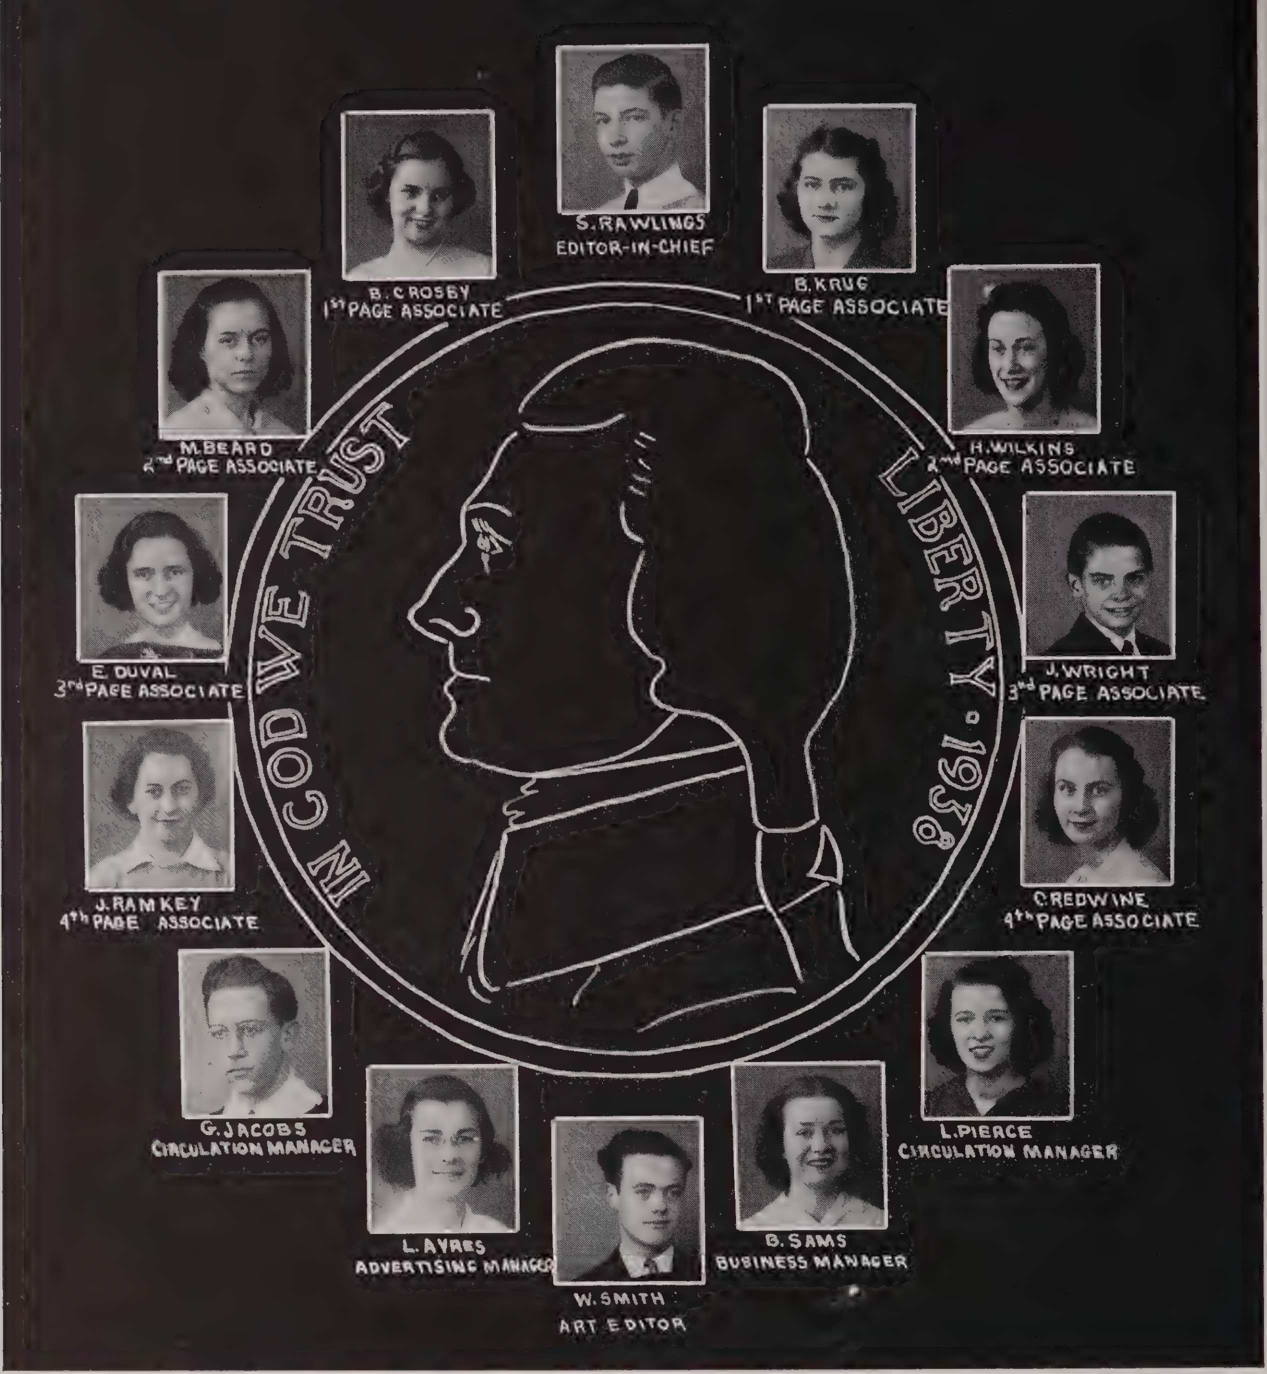
Ever since the year 1934 when the first orchestra, under the direction of Mr. W. T. Sinclair, was formed at Thomas Jefferson High School, this organization has been making great strides toward success. In the first State Music Festival in 1937, the orchestra received a rating of "Excellent," and in 1938 was awarded a "Superior" rating. Today it consists of almost fifty members directed by Mr. Frank Wendt, under whose leadership the orchestra is continuing its splendid record.

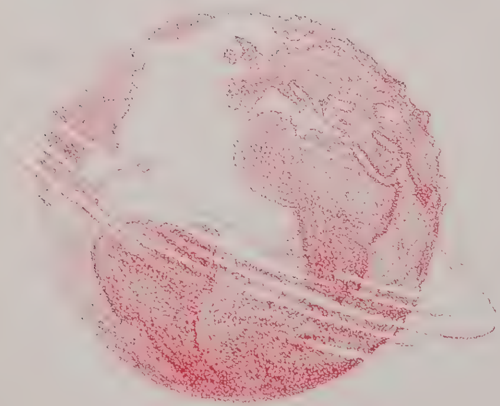




THOMAS JEFFERSON WRITERS' CLUB

The Thomas Jefferson Writers' Club is the youngest organization in the school. Sponsored by Miss Berry, it consists of those students interested in the art of writing. At the meetings original essays, compositions, poems, and short stories, written by the members, are read and discussed. The group's outstanding achievement was the editing of the DECLARATION, our first literary magazine. The success of this venture proved a fitting tribute to the work of Thomas Jefferson's young authors.





JEFFERSONIAN STAFF (FALL)

Published bi-weekly by the journalism students, under the advisership of Mrs. Mears, the JEFFERSONIAN, our four-page newspaper, belongs to three nationally known press associations and was awarded a first place at the nineteen hundred thirty-eight Southern Interscholastic Press Association. The paper informs the student body of current happenings in the school and gives them notices of events that otherwise might be overlooked. There are also columns devoted to home room events, gossip, book reviews, faculty news, and humor.

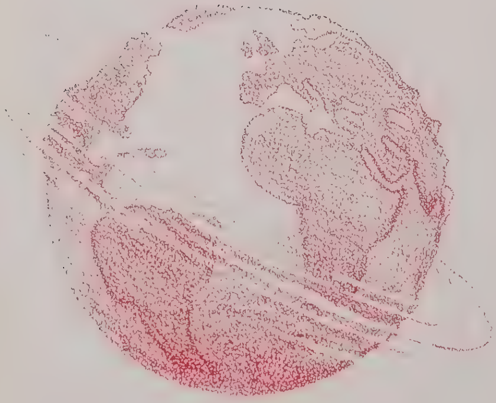
ART FOR ANNUAL'S SAKE. WARREN SMITH AND ELIZABETH STONEBURNER, ART ASSISTANTS



THE MONTICELLO

The MONTICELLO, the yearbook published by the students of Thomas Jefferson, tries to present a panoramic view of school-life at Thomas Jefferson. To each class is devoted a separate section in which the outstanding personalities and the principal happenings are recorded. The Senior section is a lasting monument to the achievement of the class it commemorates. For the students of the future, the MONTICELLO is an inspiration to even greater and more successful efforts.

THE MONTICELLO BUSINESS STAFF

Since the sale of advertisements is vitally important to the success of the MONTICELLO, the business staff has a difficult but necessary task to perform. This staff secures advertisements from business firms and handles the sale of yearbooks to the students. The work of the literary staff is largely dependent on that of the business staff, since the annual cannot be composed until accurate information on the sale of annuals and advertisements can be given.

CHEER LEADERS

The peppy Teejay lads and lassies, dressed in their colorful red and white costumes, gesticulating wildly in front of the bleachers, are our spirited cheer leaders. They are an invaluable part of our school life. Sponsored by Miss Martha Lipscomb, the cheer leaders have added vitality to all our contests and have undertaken for the last two years a pep rally preceding the John Marshall game. They are the personification of one phase of Teejay school spirit.

COACH FUGATE

Thomas Jefferson, under the guidance of Coaches Wat Fugate and Jim Strong, presented a light but aggressive team in the Virginia Literary and Athletic League.

The Jeffs, after opening the season with a 33 to 0 victory over Morrison, held the State Championship Glass High team and the Hampton Crabbers to scoreless ties. Two well executed passes netted Hopewell a 12 to 2 victory, and a superior Petersburg club turned back the Presidents, 27 to 0. In a drizzling rain the Red Devils defeated Jefferson Senior of Roanoke, 18 to 6. Woodrow Wilson and Lane High fell before the Jeffs, 7 to 6 and 14 to 0 respectively. John Marshall splashed their way to a 19 to 0 victory at the Richmond Stadium before 13,500 spectators, and the Maury Commodores completed the season by handing the Jeffs a 13 to 6 defeat.

Co-Captains Raymond Scott and Leonard DeLaney played outstanding ball all year. Both placed on the All-City team, and Scott was honored with a position on the All-State team.

THOMAS JEFFERSON — MORRISON

A far superior Thomas Jefferson eleven defeated a fighting 17-man Morrison squad on Teejay field, 33 to 0. Coach Fugate used five teams in subduing the Farmers from Tidewater.

THOMAS JEFFERSON — E. C. GLASS HIGH

Although outplayed for the better part of the game, the Jeffs' spirit and aggressiveness earned a 0 to 0 tie with Glass High of Lynchburg. Co-Captains Scott and Delaney were the outstanding Red Devils.

THOMAS JEFFERSON — HOPEWELL

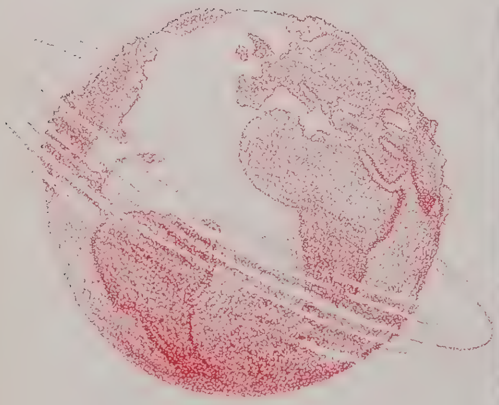
An undefeated team from Hopewell turned back the Red and White of T. J., 12 to 2. Two well executed passes netted Hopewell the victory. The Jeffs' only score came when Hope Cooke spilled a Blue Devil behind the goal line.

THOMAS JEFFERSON — HAMPTON

Thomas Jefferson played their second scoreless tie of the season against the Hampton Crabbers. Teejay outplayed the Tidewater eleven, but was not able to push across a tally. Ray Scott was the outstanding player on the field, breaking up many Hampton plays with vicious tackles.

THOMAS JEFFERSON — PETERSBURG

Jefferson suffered their second defeat at the hand of a strong Petersburg eleven, 27 to 0. The teams played on even terms in the first half, but the Petersburg weight told in the last half. The fleet Crimson backs manufactured three touchdowns and as many extra points in the last two periods.



HUDDLE BEFORE PETERSBURG GAME

THOMAS JEFFERSON — JEFFERSON SENIOR of ROANOKE

In a drizzling rain the Presidents played their best game of the season by defeating a favored Roanoke eleven, 18 to 6. Losing 6 to 0 at the half, the Jeffs scored three touchdowns in the third quarter to win. Because of injuries the Presidents presented a patched line-up. Scott moved to fullback, and Hanson to guard.

THOMAS JEFFERSON — LANE

Thomas Jefferson defeated Lane High at Charlottesville on a water soaked field, 14 to 0. Aided by the superb blocking of Fuquay and Scott, Hargrave scored both touchdowns.

THOMAS JEFFERSON — WOODROW WILSON

Co-Captain Delaney caught a touchdown pass and kicked the extra point which downed Woodrow Wilson at Portsmouth, 7 to 6.

THOMAS JEFFERSON — JOHN MARSHALL

John Marshall splashed their way to a 19 to 0 victory over the Jeffs before 13,500 drenched spectators at the Richmond Stadium. The Justices scored in each of the first three quarters. Whitehead and Scott made Teejay a threat throughout; Moncrief was equally as good for John Marshall.

THOMAS JEFFERSON — MAURY

Maury defeated T. J., 13 to 6, to complete a successful season for the Jeffs. In the waning minutes of the game Cardoza caught a pass from Whitehead to register the Presidents' only score.

BOYS'

Coach "Spud" Bloxom started the season with an inexperienced team; but, after a few hard games, they became a threat in the Central District.

In non-league games, the Jeffs were defeated twice by both Hampton and Maury. They split with Benedictine and lost to the William and Mary Frosh. The Randolph-Macon "Bees" dropped two games to the Teejay quintet.

In the Central District the Presidents made a serious bid for the state championship. Hopewell defeated Thomas Jefferson in the first league game. The Jeffs overcame Arlington, and handed Petersburg its first defeat; but they lost to Alexandria and John Marshall. The Beltliners then went on a winning streak, defeating Hopewell, Arlington, Petersburg, and Alexandria in succession. However, John Marshall again defeated the Red Devils 23 to 18. Had the Jeffs won this game they would have been tied with Petersburg for the Central District Championship, and would have had a chance at the state title.

The Teejay basketeers accomplished several outstanding feats. They twice defeated Petersburg, one of the strongest teams in the State; and Co-Captain Lester Hooker was selected captain of the All-City team.

BASEBALL

The Virginia Literary and Athletic Association reorganized a baseball league, of which Thomas Jefferson is a member, this year. The Presidents, under Coach Bloxom, played hard, but were not as successful as in past years.

The Jeffs lost games to Hopewell, Alexandria, Petersburg, Maury, and John Marshall in league competition. But, in later engagements they defeated Hopewell, Alexandria, and Maury. Outside the league Thomas Jefferson defeated South River of New Jersey, and lost to the Richmond Frosh and the William and Mary Freshmen.

Captain Jimmy Howard made the All-City team. He also led Teejay in batting, which included five doubles and three home runs.

TRACK 1938

The Red and White flashes raced down the cindered lanes to retain all proud honors previously gained by Jefferson trackmen. The squad, coached by Mr. Fugate and Mr. Strong, passed through a successful season that ended with two first honors, a tie, and one third place.

Led by Co-captain Gordon Remine, the Jeffs were victorious over Glass High and Hopewell. The William and Mary meet was postponed with the score deadlocked at thirty-seven all. At the Duke Invitation Meet Thomas Jefferson scored twenty-three points to place tenth among twenty-three teams competing, and 23¾ points put the Jeffs third of five squads in the Central District Meet. With eight teams participating the Presidents finished fifth in the Tidewater encounter. John Marshall defeated the Jeffs on the Teejay field 60.5 to 56.5. Thomas Jefferson put on a last minute rally to finish one, two and three in the broad and high jumps.

MR. STRONG

With six wins, one defeat, and one tie the tennis team, sponsored by Mr. Strong, had one of its most successful seasons.

The racketeers tied Hopewell, but in a second engagement the Blue Devils fell before the Jeffs. Benedictine was the only team to defeat the Red and White. The Presidents overcame Petersburg, and then evened things with Benedictine. In the important games with John Marshall the Jeffs twice came out on top.

Although each tennis player was outstanding, Captain Dick Johnson deserves special mention, as he was undefeated in eight matches.

GOLF 1938

The Thomas Jefferson golf team completed the season with a good record, but they were not on a par with the outstanding teams of the previous two years.

By defeating John Marshall twice and St. Christopher's once, the golfers won the city championship. Westhampton also fell in both encounters with the Jeffs, but Woodbury Forest, Morrison, and Newport News proved to be more difficult. The Presidents finished third in the state-wide high school golf tournament.

The golf team deeply appreciates Mr. Galvin's untiring effort and guidance and Frank Sutton's instructions.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

With that great old "up and at 'em" technique, Tee-Jay's femme sextet of basketball fame flashed through another season of spirited playing and excellent sportsmanship! With only three lettermen returning, two guards and one center, the team began the season by winning over Manchester. The following encounters did not prove quite as successful; for the team lost five, tied three, won one.

The girls' encounter with St. Catherine's proved to be a tip-top performance, and it put a tall feather in their cap for holding these strong opponents to a tie. Although not always victorious, they forged ahead with chins up, undaunted by defeat.

HOCKEY 1938

Nineteen hundred thirty-eight marked the sixth year of hockey's existence at Thomas Jefferson, and the school is indeed proud of its progress.

Throughout the entire season, the T. J. girls' hockey team exemplified fine cooperation, sportsmanship, and ability. They needed a great deal of perseverance to keep up the defense work which was repeatedly necessary against the strong and experienced elevens that they played, and much credit is due them for their success in keeping their opponents' scores to a low margin. To climax their season of hard training and playing, the team put out the Marshallites with the score 4-0. Since this was the most important game, the victory was something of which to be proud.

TENNIS

The tennis lassies of '38 literally went swinging through the season, netting a score in games of two won, two lost, and one won by forfeit.

Prospects of fine new material and the return of many experienced players augurs well for the success of this year's team; and by enlarging their schedule, and proving a strong threat to their opponents, the Tee-Jay tennis hopefuls expect to come through with flying colors.

THE TEE JAY MEN'S ASSOCIATION

EXTENDS TO ALL FATHERS AND THOSE INTERESTED IN THE SCHOOL AN INVITATION TO BECOME MEMBERS

THE PURPOSES OF THE ASSOCIATION ARE:

To give encouragement to those enterprises of the school which are designed to develop good citizenship in the student body.

To afford opportunities to its members to become better acquainted with the objectives and purposes of the school organization.

To help interpret the aims of the school to the citizens of Richmond.

To give encouragement to the development of a well-rounded program in athletics.

To help provide means whereby deserving students, who now have to drop out of school for economic reasons, may continue their studies.

To set up plans to aid graduates to find their places in the world.

To do such other things to promote the general welfare of the school as may arise from time to time.

Is the Seed of Success in You?

That is the question that every young man faces as the time draws near for him to enter the business world. If you are able to save money, you can succeed; if not, you will fail; You may not think so, but you will lose as sure as fate, for the seed of success is not in you. Man has two fundamental weaknesses. His inability to hang on to life as long as he desires and his inability to hang on to his material possessions. Life insurance is the only plan which is certain to offset these two fundamental weaknesses. It not only assists him to save his money but guarantees to him the safest investment and the most secure protection.

Introducing a New Profession: Medical Office Assistantship

● Virginia College now offers to young ladies, either College or High School graduates of especial qualifications, an opportunity to be office assistants to practicing physicians, being capable of filling the position of Medical Stenographer, Office Nurse, and Medical Office Technologist.

● The training for this New Profession embraces what was formerly offered in the form of a Medical Secretarial Course, and in addition the didactic, laboratory, and practical training which is given nursing students and students in medical technology, except that the training is confined to those courses which are applicable to the practice of these professions in the physician's office.

● The demand is here for capable assistants with all of the above training. Virginia College, with an affiliated medical group, is the only school offering the above courses of instruction.

OTHER COURSES OFFERED

Stenographic, Secretarial, Junior Accounting, Higher Accounting, Comptometer, Civil Service, and Special Finishing Course of three months for those who have had shorthand and typewriting.

● Summer Term Opens June 12 and June 19. Make the Summer Months Count by enrolling now. Competent staff of teachers. Employment service after graduation. Select enrollment. Best location and capacious building. For further information, call, write or phone.

SIXTY-THREE YEARS

Since 1876 we have been engaged in the interesting business of designing and producing printed matter to meet the needs of discriminating buyers. † This experience of sixty-three years has provided a rich background in the knowledge of our craft . . . a knowledge we pass on to our customers as a part of an intelligent, helpful service.

THE MARCH OF TIME 1964

Because of their agelessness, certain objects in T-J can transcend all dimensions, first, second, third, fourth — just like that! At 8 P. M. on June eighth, the eagle on the tower, the Indian carving, the water fountains, the reception desk, and the clocks met in the recreation hall to prophesy concerning the class of '39.

In the mosque at the same time, proud relatives were dreaming of careers for their offspring who were tremblingly crossing the stage, but only the forecasters in the "Wreck Hall" knew what the future held. As each student crossed the stage, some evidence of him or her in 1964 was chivvied up before the prognosticators.

Are you hungry? — Call expert dieticians, CLAIRE BARDWELL, LAZELLE SWENSSON.

Are you sick? — Consult a special nurse, Blonde-AUDREY LEE TYLER, Brunette-HELEN STEVENS.

Ladies and gentlemen, this is your sports-caster, MAURICE PLOTNICK. It was reported today that a revolving wire cage has been constructed for PHILIP THOMAS, mile-a-minute miler. This was done because there is no track in existence banked enough to hold Thomas down when he hits his sprint.

JEFFERSONIAN NOTES — 1964

Mr. Leonard Delaney, senator, spoke to us in assembly this morning on the evils of chewing bubble gum, and illustrated his lecture with several packs.

Under the direction of its sponsor, Miss JAQUELINE FOWLKES, and dramatic teachers, CARRINGTON GUY and JANE SHAW, the Senior Class presented its play, "Dotty Dumpkins of Roselane Academy." Outstanding among the cast were the McClure Twins and little BEN LACY VI, who blushingly kissed the heroine.

Bursting today, Grand Coulee Dam inundated thousands of cities. The break resulted from a little mistake made by engineers employed by the government to test the resistance of the dam. Those engineers accounted for are FRANK LAMBERT, HERMAN JOEL, ARTHUR SMITH, WILLIAM METZGER, ABE HERTZBERG, and VAUGHAN CALDER. Red Cross Nurse NORMA THOMPSON rushed to the scene of the disaster and bound up the fingers of the men.

After testing seven million seven-line skinks, Biologists DOUGLAS DENNISTON and RAYMOND HUDDLESTON, announced conclusively that the lizard throws off its tail when grasped. Their expedition will be to discover if there are any seven-line lizards left with tails.

Judge HOOKER was present at the Elks' luncheon, escorting his wife, twin sister of the famous suffragette, CAROLYN ARMITAGE.

Moths in the closet, cobwebs in the corners, flies in the kitchen, rats in the attic, termites in the cellar, and silver fish in the sink are some of the features of the "Back to Nature Interior Decorating Company," organized by HELEN EBEL, ETHEL SAVILLE, JEAN MANN, MARY FRANCES JONES, CLEILAND DONNAN, NANCY POWERS, and MARGARET GRUBBS.

BOB PHILLIPS and STUART JENKS have entered into the post office game.

Richmond News-Dispatch — JOAN STRAUSE, DOT COSBY, and EVELYN FLAX, social workers, have aroused much enthusiasm with their campaigns against stickers advertising dances. They daily exhibit RAY SCOTT and WILTON ATKINSON as examples of how glue consumed during one's youth can stunt the growth.

Fighting his way through corn stalks fifty feet high, PRESTON WATT, explorer, radioed today that the search for JOHN GALE and ELLIOTT CALISCH, scientific farmers, who became lost in their own corn patch, was nearing an end.
